Controls Extension Confused

Administration Asks Stronger Reins By Opposition Set Up In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Storm signals were up in Congress today on the administration's request to extend and strengthen the network of price, wage, rent, credit and materials controls.

Angry comments about the proposed steelworkers' pay boost, intended to avert a crippling strike, whipped up gales of opposition.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) is pushing the Senate Banking Committee to get its extension bill on to the Senate floor.

But progress was suspended until next week after Office of Price Stabilization officials entered a hurried protest on tentative Senate committee actions.

Would Revise Amendment

One was a vote to revise the Herlong Amendment, which last year assured retailers and wholesalers of historic profit percentages, or margins, on price ceilings fixed "hereafter."

President Truman and price control officials have been pushing for repeal of the amendment, saying it is inflationary. An attempt to kill it was beaten 10-3 in the Senate committee yesterday.

Then the group voted to strike out the "hereafter." OPS officials said that would reopen thousands of price ceilings fixed prior to last August, when the amendment began to operate.

Rent Controls Stand Test

Rent controls in Chicago and other large cities survived by a 7-6 vote in the Senate committee when a move to limit rent control to critical defense areas was defeated.

President Truman had asked a two-year extension of the entire controls program but the Senate group accepted, without a record vote, the one-year extension proposed by Maybank.

Truman also has asked outright repeal of a section that now bans imports on foreign cheese, butter and dairy products. The committee did this but promptly substituted a world war imports ban which Maybank said was more liberal and should please the President.

Capehart Law Intact

Still intact was the Capehart Amendment, which Truman has called "terrible."

Inserted last year, this amendment directs officials fixing prices for manufacturers and processors to consider all post-Korea cost increases such as wage and tax boosts prior to July 26 last year.

For a brief time yesterday Sen. Moody (D-Mich) won 7-6 approval of more liberal installment provisions on new automobile purchases.

Present law requires payment of one-third down and the balance within 18 months. Moody, saying the new car market now is clogged because many buyers are unable to meet these terms, urged a one-fourth down payment with 24 months on the balance.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) voted for this and then changed his vote so it lost 6-7, Moody said.

Capehart lost by the same 7-6 margin an effort to liberalize credit on installment buying on furniture, radios, television sets and similar consumer goods. Both issues are certain to be raised again.

Recommend $492 Mil. For Army Civil Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee recommended today that Congress vote $492,434,900 for Army civil functions in the year starting next July 1. Most of the money would be for flood control and navigation projects.

More Like It

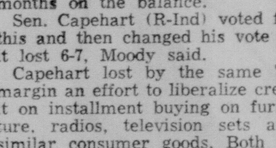
Today's weather was more to our liking—in springtime, that is.

Starting with a snappy frost and slightly cool temperatures, the day heated up until it had passed the 50 degree mark and even felt "springy." Clouds hovered overhead all day, but Old Sol was able to stick his nose through occasionally and when he did he peered down on the Paradise of Pettis and environs. We liked his staring at us.



WARMING UP

Central Missouri: Fair tonight and Friday. Warmer Friday. Low tonight near 32, and high Friday in the 50s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 25 degrees above zero; 48 at 1 p. m. and 50 at 2 p. m.

Lake of Ozarks: 6.8, fall .4.

Both Parties' Candidates Plunge Into Nebraska Test

Moves Will Push Primary Into Vital Importance for All Concerned; Taft Seeks Write-Ins; Kefauver vs. Kerr

OMAHA (AP) — Republican and Democratic presidential candidates turned on a home-stretch drive today carefully planned to boom Nebraska's April 1 primary into an election of nation-wide importance.

Political leaders have chosen deliberately to make this state a "popularity" testing ground—a decision which could have strong repercussions throughout the Midwest farm belt.

On the Republican side:

Supporters of Sen. Taft of Ohio hope to roll up a huge write-in vote to offset the senator's losses in New Hampshire and Minnesota to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. They called in retired Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, a native Nebraskan, to open the final drive.

Eisenhower backers see the New Hampshire-Minnesota results as a trend which will carry the general to another write-in victory in this state. They are working hard to match the Taft drive.

On the Democratic side:

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee returned to Nebraska from Wisconsin for a week end of whirlwind campaigning in the eastern part of the state, where his path was to cross that of his opponent, Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma.

Kerr told newsmen in Lincoln last night "I think we are gaining on Kefauver." He added: "I have always thought that if I could win in Nebraska, I would have an excellent chance for the (Democrat) ic nomination. I am more convinced of that than ever."

Kerr denied he is a "stalking horse" for President Truman. But he has said repeatedly he will step aside if the President runs again.

Special interest centered on the Taft-Eisenhower raec in this state which normally gives a top-heavy vote to the GOP presidential nominee.

Two weeks ago the Nebraska primary appeared to have little national significance so far as the Republicans were concerned. The only GOP candidates to qualify were Harold E. Stassen and Mrs. Mary Kenny of Lincoln, a housewife who is an avowed supporter of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

But after the astonishing write-in victory by Eisenhower in Minnesota, things began to happen. The Taft people decided to use the Nebraska primary as a vehicle for gaining lost prestige. The Eisenhower backers jumped in with a write-in campaign for the general.

Wedemeyer told reporters he was convinced that "Taft is the best qualified avowed candidate for the presidency considering the conditions faced by our country today." He added that he considered Eisenhower an "avowed candidate," but not MacArthur.

Asked why he supports Taft, Wedemeyer (who now is in business in New York) replied: "He would resist centralization of power in Washington. In foreign policy, Taft would put America first. He is not an isolationist. He is a realist."

Wedemeyer is well known in Nebraska where he has strong personal ties. His friends tried to make him a favorite-son candidate in the coming primary, but he refused.

Unlike Minnesota, there will be no voting by machines. Each ballot will have a blank line on which voters may write in their presidential choice.

But the state attorney general has ruled the voter must spell out the surname of a write-in choice. This apparently rules out any move by the Eisenhower backers to have the voters write in "Ike" as many did in Minnesota. They must spell out the difficult name Eisenhower—or try it.

However, the actual decision on whether "Ike" votes will be counted will rest with the precinct judges.

Another complicating factor in the primary is the spirited GOP senate race between Gov. Val Peterson and Sen. Hugh Butler.

Demos Will Have Two Head Tables At $100 Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats arranging the annual $100 a plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner Saturday night said today the seating of party bigwigs has been planned with careful attention to both political and social feelings.

It so happens that President Truman will eat at the same table with Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, a reported Truman choice for the Democratic presidential nomination if the President decides not to seek another term.

But party officials attached no special significance to this. They said there will be two head tables this time in the big national guard armory, with the President eating at the south table and speaking at the north table.

By placing 50 of the top guests at each head table and calling on the President to divide his time between the two, officials explained, the more important party leaders and their wives will be brought closer to the president and Mrs. Truman than on former occasions.

Although Gov. Stevenson will eat at the same table with the President he will be half-a-dozen seats removed from him.

The only avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination expected to attend is Sen. Russell of Georgia.

Quote Stevenson as Saying He Declines Truman Request

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Daily Sun-Times, in a copyright dispatch from Washington, today said that Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois has "firmly declined President Truman's invitation to seek the Democratic presidential nomination."

"And," said the story written by Carleton Kent, "it was learned Wednesday only a full-blown convention draft could shake his (Stevenson's) decision."

"Stevenson communicated this decision, gently but with great firmness, to Mr. Truman shortly before the President's departure for a Key West holiday on March 7," the Sun-Times added.

"Contrary to widely accepted reports, the exchange of ideas between the governor and the President earlier this month did not include further suggestions from Mr. Truman that Stevenson become a candidate for the presidency. Instead, it was the occasion on which the governor said he would not become such a candidate.

"And since that communication, Mr. Truman has not put any pressure on Stevenson to change his mind or to modify his position."

Truce Talkers Swap Details Of POW Plans

UN Openly Seeks Compromise Over Controversial Issue

MUNSAN, Korea (AP) — Korean truce negotiators today swapped detailed explanations of how they want to exchange prisoners of war as the U.N. Command openly sought a compromise.

An official Allied spokesman said "neither optimism nor pessimism is justified" at this point in the secret sessions.

In a nearby tent Communist tempers flared in a dispute over whether the U.N. Command represents the Korean people.

Col. Don O. Darrow inadvertently triggered the outburst while discussing a Korean translation of United Nations.

Darrow told the Communists they had no right to haggle over the point since "you seem to forget that I represent the Korean people also—those Allied with the United Nations."

"The Americans cannot represent the Korean people," North Korean Col. Chang Chun San retorted angrily.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official U.N. spokesman, said the translation dispute has been regarded as a mere technicality, but it "is taking on some significance."

The Communists want the U.N. Command to be known in Korea as "Allied Forces." The U.N. prefers "International Allied Forces." One of these is about as close as you can come in Korean to United Nations.

Today's argument was in a session on supervising the truce.

Nuckols said both Allied and Communist staff officers working on prisoner exchange made "extensive statements which are apparently well-considered views."

He declined to comment "on what the views are and the extent of their divergency, if any."

"We further explored the Communist proposal of March 21 with ramifications and we still have not come to any agreement," said Col. George W. Hickman.

Nuckols said the three secret sessions on prisoner exchange have "produced some clarification." He did not elaborate.

"We have been seeking a way to compromise on prisoner exchange" he said.

The prisoner exchange negotiators went into executive session Tuesday so they could exchange opinions freely.

Nuckols said it would "not be proper" to say progress has been made during the past three days unless clarification of views could be described as progress.

He added, however, that "the talks are being held with more candor in the last three days."

Hickman said each side is exploring the other's ideas in "free discussions of the problem—discussions without rancor."

Truck Strike Holds; Contracts Considered

KANSAS CITY, March 27—(AP)—A strike of local pickup and delivery truck drivers continued here today, while over-the-road drivers have stopped operations in several other cities.

A spokesman for the local No. 41 of the Teamsters and Chauffeurs Union (AFL) in Kansas City said last night that some of the large truck lines were planning to sign new contracts soon.

A. A. Fowler, president of the Highway Carriers Association, asserted however, that the association considered demands of the union unreasonable.

New Idea To Settle Dispute

Top Administration Officials Meeting In Attempt to Halt Steel Strike Apr. 8

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson dropped plans today for a top level parley of government officials concerned with the threat of a steel strike April 8.

Instead, he talked separately with the various price and wage control executives and ruled out any announcement today of what he may do next to head off a strike.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top administration officials worked today on a new plan to stave off a scheduled April 8 steel strike.

Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson arranged to meet with Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger of the Wage Stabilization Board, along with Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam and Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall.

Wilson apparently had a new idea for settling the steel industry's crucial wage-price stalemate. He has indicated he wants to carve down wage settlement proposals advanced by Feinsinger's wage board.

Believes WSB Plan Fair

But Feinsinger was known to be firm on the notion that the WSB's recommendation for a 17½-cent hourly pay boost plus other benefits for CIO steelworkers is perfectly fair. Wilson has said the WSB's proposals are inflationary and too high.

This showndown among top administration officials, with President Truman due back from his Florida vacation in late afternoon, held the possibility that someone in the administration's heirarchy may quit soon. Such was the temper of the situation.

Administration Must Decide

One thing appeared certain: The CIO United Steelworkers, headed by Philip Murray, will get nowhere in negotiations with steel firms until the administration makes up its mind. The companies said they will need price boosts of $12 a ton if they grant the WSB recmended terms.

Bargaining talks between Murray's union and U. S. Steel Corp. and Jones & Laughlin Steel began yesterday in Pittsburgh, but nothing was accomplished. Both sides looked to Washington for guidance.

Two Major Issues

The administration's real task was two-fold: to answer the questions (1) whether Feinsinger's WSB over-stepped itself in its suggested solution, and (2) assuming a wage boost, whether steel profits require any price boost to keep them in the black.

Wilson's fears were based on possible effects to the economy generally. John L. Lewis is waiting to see what Murray does in steel before trying to drive a new wage bargain for coal miners. In short, a new wage pattern is in the making, at least in Wilson's view.

Open Door to Price Hikes

Back of that, if steel firms raise prices, a whole host of other industries will be breaking down the doors for higher prices, too. In other words, Wilson's group fears a new burst of inflation.

Feinsinger has said the WSB's proposed boosts for steelworkers are not only fair but "uninflationary." He contends other workers and unions already have done as well as Murray's steelworkers, and Murray now is merely "catching up."

Only a few days ago the WSB granted a 15-cent pay boost plus a 7½-cent pension allowance, with industry members agreeing, for more than two million workers in the construction industry. This was fairly close to what the WSB recommended for steel.

The union demanded that the industry accept the WSB steel formula, or take responsibility for a strike.

Wilson Doesn't Ask Steel Pay Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Nathan P. Feinsinger of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) told reporters "hell no" today when asked if Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson has asked the WSB to reduce its recommendations for settling the steel case.

He had just left a meeting with Wilson, who has said the WSB's settlement plan, calling for a 17½ cent hourly wage boost, was a serious threat to anti-inflation efforts.

Tornado Death Toll Revised Down to 220

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The toll of known dead in tornadoes and a flood which hit the South last Friday has been revised slightly downward.

Latest total for Arkansas was placed at 120 by the Red Cross after elimination of duplications and errors on the list of dead.

That dropped to around 220 the overall toll for Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Mississippi and Alabama tornadoes and a Kentucky flood. But seven persons still are missing in Arkansas.

Previous Red Cross statistics gave the death toll as 224. More than 1,200 persons were injured.

Navy Starts Training Crewmen for Robot Weapons Warships, First 2 Ready in '54

Information Comes Out In Routine List of Navy Orders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has started training crews for its robot weapons warships, the first two of which will be ready about 1954.

This came out today in a list of routine orders transferring officers. One of them was assigned to "Naval Guided Missile Training Unit No. 21."

The Navy, both in its own research program and in collaboration with the other armed forces, has for several years been training a relatively small number of technicians for development work.

But to be ready with the thousands of officers and enlisted men needed when the new weapons begin reaching the fleet for operational use it is opening guided missile training schools.

While officials did not specify where Unit No. 21 is located, a large party of the Navy's missile program is centered at Point Mugu, Calif., the overwater testing area. However, the Navy also carries on extensive operations afloat, including missile launchings from the former seaplane tender Norton Sound, now a laboratory ship, and from a submarine.

The Navy disclosed last year that a factory for production of guided missiles in volume was being built in California.

The overall objective is to have weapons, ships and crews ready at about the same time.

In January, the Navy announced that two heavy cruisers, the Boston and Canberra, both 13,600-tonners, had been selected for conversion into guided missile vessels, "available for duty as ships of the line."

The two ships, towed from Puget Sound, Ore., through the Panama Canal, have arrived at the yards of the New York Shipbuilding Corp. Camden, N. J., preparatory to a start on their remodeling, a Navy spokesman said today.

The general expectation is that the first production-line missiles will be tactical weapons for anti-aircraft (surface-to-air) and possibly for defense against attacks by other ships (surface-to-surface).

Presumably the contract which the Navy made about a year ago with the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. for operating the plant at Pomona, Calif., was for production of this type of missile. Construction of the factory started in June, and was scheduled to be completed early this year.

Indict Six Boys For Robbing Grave To Get Skeleton

CHATHAM, Va. (AP) — Ghostly rumors of a grave robbing to provide a skeleton for use in a seance took on substance today with the indictment of six college students by a special grand jury.

The students — two girls and four boys — were charged with opening a grave in the old Pigg family burying ground near here and removing a skull and other bones.

These, Sheriff Dabney Hall of Pittsylvania County said, were used in spirit rites the group held on three occasions on March 3 and 4 in a day room at Danville's Averett College where five of them were students. The Averett students were promptly expelled.

Grave robbing — violation of sepulture, the law calls it — is a felony in Virginia and carries a penalty of from five to 10 years imprisonment.

The girls indicted were Merle Goad, 20, and Carol Stuart, 21, of Danville. The four men students were Clifton D. Cook Jr., 21, and Steve Meadows, 20, of Danville, and Robert Jackson Leach, 20, of Patrick County, and Jay Heze Ford Pigg, 21, of Chatham. It was on Pigg's family farm that the grave was opened March 1.

Sheriff Hall said statements had been obtained from all the students.

Eight Burn to Death In Farm House Fire

SOMERSET, Pa. (AP)—Eight persons — six of them children — burned to death today in a farmhouse at nearby Rockwood in southwestern Pennsylvania.

Only Franklin Whipkey, 10, one of the seven children at home at the time, escaped unhurt. He jumped out of a window.

Neighbors said the blaze apparently broke out about 7 a. m. in the three-story frame home of John Whipkey, retired coal miner and father of 14.

Flames swept rapidly through the old farmhouse.

Firemen from Somerset and nearby communities reported the blaze out of control upon arrival. They removed four charred bodies from the ruins but they were so badly burned that identification was not immediately determined.

Sen. Bridges Tells Of Tax Case Interest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) testified today he took an interest in a seven million dollar tax case against a Baltimore liquor dealer because he wanted to encourage "quick and proper action" by the government.

In the witness chair before House tax investigators, Bridges suggested that as a member of Congress he should be interested in seeing that the government secured a fair amount of tax and was also fair to the taxpayer.

He has nothing but "official interest" in the matter, he declared.

MEN OF THE SKY—Some of the 3000 paratroopers who parachuted from planes within 10 minutes over Ft. Hood, Tex., in operation "Longhorn," near the ground. One soldier was killed when his parachute failed to open and more than 30 others were injured in the maneuvers.

Benton Dares McCarthy To Force Trial

Latter Has Filed $2 Million Damage Suit Against Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Benton (D-Conn), target of a two million dollar damage suit brought by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), challenged McCarthy today to press for trial "before his bid for re-election next November."

Commenting on the "libel, slander and conspiracy" suit the Wisconsin-Republican filed yesterday, Benton said in a statement:

"I can prove in court the truth of my carefully documented charges.

"His sincerity can henceforth be judged, even by those who read as they run, by the diligence with which he seeks to bring his suit to trial. Let him insist on actual trial before his bid for re-election next November.

"An immediate review of his tactics is urgently in the interest of the people of the United States and also of the tens of millions throughout the world in whose eyes our country is being discredited by his tactics."

Benton said he had waived his constitutional immunity from legal action in this case — congressmen are not liable for anything they say in Congress — "to compel him (McCarthy) to sue me or cease his reckless accusations." He added:

"I sought to bring him before an impartial tribunal — a procedure which he has avoided by consistently shielding himself behind his own immunity."

Benton's statement was put out by his office. He is enroute to Los Angeles.

The suit was based on Benton's charges under oath last September that McCarthy committed perjury, fraud and "calculated deceit" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges.

Benton made the charges before a Senate elections subcommittee. He demanded that McCarthy be expelled from Congress. The Constitution says members of Congress cannot be sued for remarks they make in Congress.

In a Senate speech last week, however, Benton offered to waive his immunity and to accept "full legal responsibility."

In his suit, McCarthy based the action on Benton's waiver offer.

That started discussion among other senators as to whether a member of Congress can shed constitutional immunity. Mc Carthy himself said he knew of no precedent for a suit based on such a waiver.

Two senators generally regarded by their colleagues as experts on constitutional law took differing views.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he believes Congress members can waive immunity, "just as a man can waive his constitutional right to a trial by jury."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo) said he was "inclined to doubt very much" that immunity can be discarded.

Expressing still another view, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said the issue of whether it can be waived probably wouldn't even come up for a court test in the Benton-Mc Carthy case if Benton doesn't claim immunity.

Carthage Mayor Resigns Position

CARTHAGE, Mo.(AP)—Mayor H. Tiffin Teters, freed Tuesday of a morals charge, resigned today.

His letter of resignation was handed to Harry M. Cornel, president pro tem of the city council and acting mayor at 1:30 p. m.

In his letter he said that regardless of the dismissal of the charge against him he "publicity attendant upon the charge has been so widespread that my usefulness as a public servant of the city of Carthage is at an end."

Gunman Kills 3, Injures 2 On Neb. Ranch

Mystery Assailant, With 2 Guns, Being Sought in Wide Area

MERRIMAN, Neb. (AP)—A shotgun wielding assailant opened fire on a ranch home near Merriman today and by the time he was through had killed three persons.

One of the dead was a neighboring rancher who was answering a telephone call for help.

Two others, including a 10-month-old baby, were wounded.

Authorities immediately roadblocked this entire sparsely settled northwest Nebraska sandhills area. Plane after plane was sent into the air in the search for the unidentified slayer.

First speculation by authorities was that the slayings must have been by someone carrying a "grudge," or someone gone berserk.

Killed were George Mensinger, 28; Mrs. Mensinger, his 23-year-old wife and a neighbor, Deo Gardner, about 50.

Wounded were the Mensingers' baby and another neighbor, Cliff McDonald, about 35.

Marvin Hansen, state safety patrolman stationed at Valentine, said the assailant apparently had not entered the Mensinger ranch home five miles south of Merriman but shot through doors and windows.

Mrs. Mensinger apparently was killed as she stood by the telephone, trying to summon help.

McDonald, who lives about a mile and a half away, had heard Mrs. Mensinger's general call (a series of short rings on a party line, designed to call all subscribers to their phones).

As McDonald approached the farm, he apparently encountered the slayer in his car. The assailant shot and injured McDonald, the shotgun pellets striking him in the neck, Hansen said.

Gardner, another rancher living two and a half miles away, also heard the telephone call and headed for the Mensinger ranch with his son and a hired man, Frank Ellis. They spotted a car and stopped to inquire about the trouble. The assailant fired into the Gardner car, killing Gardner. The son and hired man were not hurt.

Hansen said Gardner appeared to have been killed with a pistol although all the others were shot with a shotgun, loaded with buckshot.

The only roads in the area are sandhill trails. Hansen said a man would have to know the area to use them for a getaway.

There was nothing to indicate robbery might have been a motive.

"We couldn't see where anything had been ransacked," Hansen said.

The Mensingers operated a ranch of about 3,000 acres, raising pure-bred Hereford cattle.

Merriman is in Cherry County, just six miles from the Nebraska-South Dakota border. Valentine, the county seat, is 61 miles away.

Young Demos Going To Poplar Bluff For Convention Today

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., March 27—(AP)— Missouri Young Democratic Club members were arriving here today for the annual convention scheduled to get under way tonight.

Jim Frederick, convention housing committee member said "over 400" had sent in advance room reservations and he believes between 700 and 800 will be here by tomorrow.

A program released today did not list the name of a convention speaker but State Senator John A. Johnson, president of the state young Democratic organization, said he has invited Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma to address the assembly Saturday night and believes the governor will accept.

He Lands Flaming Airliner

Only One of 50 On Board Is Hurt As Pilot Lands In Kansas Field

HUGOTON, Kan. (AP)—"The only sensible thing to do was land."

That was the only comment from Chief Pilot Jack Stanford, who helped land a flaming airliner with 50 persons aboard in a wheat field yesterday.

Only one passenger was injured.

The Braniff Airlines' DC-4 came down with one of its four engines gone and a wing in flames. The landing was perfect.

Minutes after the 45 passengers and five crew members scurried out, flames consumed virtually the entire plane.

Neither Stanford nor Co-Pilot John Beakley, both of Dallas, Tex., would take credit for an extraordinary job. They had little to say.

Makes Smooth Landing

But O. R. Stites, an Oklahoma City lawyer who was a passenger, described the landing "as smooth as any I've ever seen."

He gave this description:

"I was sitting on the right side about two seats back of the wing when I noticed fire around the right inboard engine. I called the stewardesses and they went forward to tell the captain (Stanford).

"He came back, took one quick look and told us to fasten our safety belts. Then he banked the plane to put the stress on the opposite wing and started down. I judged we were about 6,000 feet above ground then.

Motor Falls Off

"About halfway down the motor fell off."

"No one talked at all. I guess they were too scared, just like I was."

Stites said the passengers "could feel the heat of the flames as we came into the wheat field."

Another passenger, W. C. (Bill) McPhail, general manager of the Colorado Springs, Colo., Skysox in the Western Baseball League, described the exit from the plane:

"Most of the men jumped down, but the women slid down the ropes. One of the women, who said she was 82, wrapped a magazine around the rope to protect her hands and slid right on down.

All Out, Plane Burns

"It seemed that we had no sooner got out of the plane than the whole thing burst into flames."

The injured passenger was Miss Jesse Watts, Greensboro, N.C., who skinned a leg sliding down a rope.

The plane was en route from Denver to Oklahoma City.

Stewardesses aboard the plane were Miss Dorothy Curry, Dangerfield, Tex., and Miss Betty Murphy, Houston.

Passengers included Roy Marion, Duncan, Okla., and C. D. Hustleby, Kenneth Messenger, Paul Barnhart, A. T. Eyler Jr., Donald Whittam, Arthur Gieser, George G. Gamble, all of Oklahoma City.

'Feeling Wonderful' After Fateful Trip

DALLAS (AP)—Sixteen of the 45 passengers aboard a burning airliner that landed in a Kansas wheat field yesterday arrived in Dallas today "feeling wonderful."

An Army doctor, Col. George H. Lage, Portland, Ore., who delivered twins just the night before he got on the plane, said "nobody got panicky. We didn't have time to get scared. The crew was wonderful."

Maurice Helman, Seattle, said "sure I was one of the lucky ones off the plane. It wasn't bad at all. I've been in rougher landings on the field. When that plane landed we all jumped out and ran like hell."

No one was injured seriously in the crash.

The passengers had been taken to Amarillo, Tex., in buses. Some of them took other planes from there.

Well Digger Rescued After Trapped 12 Hrs.

SALIDA, Colo. (AP)—A 33-year-old well digger was rescued from a caved-in well here today after 12 hours of entombment.

Charles Dennis, a metal miner from Denver, was trapped by a rock slide at the bottom of a 15-foot well.

The slide completely covered Dennis but Sheriff Emmett L. Shewalter said the trapped man was able to breathe because of air spaces in the rock jumble.

Rescue operations were carried on most of the night by floodlight. A power shovel broke through to the trapped man early today.

He suffered leg bruises and was hospitalized here. Dr. Robert A. Hoover pronounced Dennis "in good condition."

Democrats Will Hold Ward Meeting Tonight

The City Democratic Central Committee, at 7:30 o'clock Thursday will hold a Second Ward meeting at the Jefferson School. The principal speaker on the program will be William F. Brown.

The meeting will be opened by Dewey Gwinn, committeeman in that ward.

Walter Cramer, city chairman, will introduce the city candidates on the Democratic Ticket, subject to the election to be held on April 1.

Fourth Ward Demo Meeting Attracts 100

"Sedalia must go forward with a program of planned improvement that is sound for the taxpayer, businessman, wage-earner, and homeowner," William F. Brown said at a meeting of over 100 Democrats of the Fourth Ward Wednesday night at Broadway school.

"The candidates of the Democratic party are all men who will fulfill their plainly announced platform of progressive improvement, and are men of integrity who can be relied upon to keep their promises," Mr. Brown continued. "These men will inaugurate a program of planned street improvement, park and recreational development, fire protection and tax economy," he said.

"The candidates of the Democratic Party," Brown concluded, "are a true cross-section of all walks of life in Sedalia, and are well qualified to represent the best interests of all Sedalia."

Carlton Kelley, candidate for alderman in the Fourth Ward, was introduced and expressed his thanks for the support that he had received from members of both parties in his campaign. "I am humbly thankful for all the help and kind words I have received from my many friends," Mr. Kelley said.

James Reed, retiring alderman of the Fourth Ward presided over the meeting and introduced the city Democratic chairman, W. C. Cramer, who in turn introduced the candidates for city office and gave their qualifications.

Want State Laws To Regulate All Tourist Courts

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—Legislation for regulation of tourist camps was advocated by the board of governors of the Missorui Sheriffs Association yesterday at the quarterly meeting.

"We feet that a bill in the legislature designed to place restrictions on tourist camp operators would go far toward lessening the morals problem," said Sheriff J. A. Purdome of Jackson county.

Sheriff Glenn Hendrix of Greene county and George Hickam of Jasper county proposed unification of warrants and other legal instruments to simplify the execution of civil process.

Half-Dozen Mo. GOP Governor Candidates

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP)— Now there's an even half dozen Republicans who want to be Missouri's governor.

Robert C. Walters of St. Louis filed his declaration today. He is described as a manufacturer. He is newcomer to the political scene.

Already in the race for the GOP nomination for governor are:

Rep. W. D. Cruce of Eldorado Springs, minority floor leader in the House.

Rep. Howard Elliott of Ladue, former speaker of the House and a lawyer.

Mayor Stanley I. Dale of St. Joseph.

Stephen Burns, St. Louis county car dealer.

New White House Windows Bullet Proof

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bullet proof windows have been installed in the refurnished White House, the Washington Post said today.

The President moves back to the 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., address today on his arrival from Key West, Fla., after more than three years in Blair House.

Secret Service officials declined to comment on the bullet proof windows.

It was while the Trumans were living in Blair House in 1950 an attempt was made on the President's life. His family was uninjured but a guard and one of the two assassins were killed.

In some of the wooded areas of New England, the wood stove continues to be used for household heating.

Robbery Victim, Beaten, Believes Beer Was Doped

CLINTON, Mo., — Wayne Allman, state highway trooper, is investigating the slugging and robbery over last weekend of a Springfield railroad worker, which allegedly followed administration of knockout drops in a Springfield tavern.

Allman identified the victim as Jess Weaver, 45, who lives in Springfield and works in the Frisco shops there.

Weaver, according to Allman, drank two glasses of beer in the tavern Saturday afternoon. He left his table for a few moments and then drank a third glass of beer.

That was the last thing he remembered until about 4 o'clock Sunday, Weaver stated. He recovered consciousness in a lane called the Golden Gate Church road, between Clinton and Deepwater.

Weaver stumbled to a nearby farmhouse and called the state patrol. Weaver's wife and son, Jack, drove to Deepwater for him.

Allman said Weaver apparently had been badly beaten and he told persons in Deepwater, "My mouth and stomach felt like they were on fire when I came to in that ditch."

The 1951 Nash which Weaver was driving still is missing. Allman said Weaver stated a billfold containing $12 also is missing.

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—A 27-year-old cashier has confessed, police said, that she converted $4,677 of her employer's money to her own use in less than two years.

Her boss, Herman Richman, said: "I trusted her. I had to trust her because I am blind."

Police booked Dorothy Rooney suspected of embezzlement, quoting her as saying she "just spent" the money here and there.

Miss Rooney, employed as a $160-a-month cashier at an insurance agency which Richman manages, first confessed to her parish priest, who persuaded her to confess to her employer, police said.

Fruit Trees For Flowers In Spring And Bright Fruit Later

By Mrs. Theodore Gardner
721 W. 4th St.,
Garden Club No. 2

Why not frame your view with billowy white, or look out on your street through rose-tinted branches? This is the pleasant result when you plant fruit trees for flowers.

Dramatize your place with flowering trees. Let branches strung with unbelievably beautiful rosettes criss-cross your special piece of sky.

Plant a tree and you'll be pleased with yourself for years. Plant a tree that loads itself with bloom, or two trees—or a dozen different sorts and you'll make a good thing better. Many small flowering trees give two shows a season; puffy clouds of pink, red or shimmering white flowers in the spring and then a big load of fruit in the fall.

Most of the more popular flowering trees throw only light shade so lawns and flowers grow well under them.

Use your imagination when you choose your trees. The sky will be blue, with little white clouds scudding over when the shadbush opens its baby ribbon flowers and looks for all the world as if one of those clouds had caught in its branches. Shadbush is the service-berry of pioneer days and the mild sweet fruit is still a treat if you can get ahead of the birds. Shadbush makes pretty thickets and like the white bodied birch trees, fit delightfully into a border where you have a cluster of slender junipers.

Keep redbuds, deep rose red crabapples and the spectacular saucer magnolias and red flowering dogwood away from the orange red glow of flowering quinces. Never set them close to the early forsythias somewhat acid yellow.

As underplantings, specialize in blue phlox, Virginia bluebells, smokey blue camassia spires, violets and great basketfuls of Swiss blue pansies.

Crabapples and Hawthorns are prodigal with flowers. They will open on days when the May sun lies warm on your shoulders. The wind vane will have stopped its merry twirling but the trees will be breezy with the sound of bees. Both crab and hawthorne are loaded again in the fall with fruit, and both can easily be shaped to fit into your particular space.

Plant with imagination when you locate your flowering trees with rich-colored foliage. Purple leaf plum makes a splendid accent but should not be dotted all over the place. When you come to plan your flowering trees remember they will be a long time with you. Choose sunny spots where they will have good natural drainage. Allow for spread—dig holes large enough to straighten out the roots, cover them with nothing more than rich top soil. See that the stem stands straight when you finish.

Most important, settle each tree in place with a flood of water. To get full benefit jostle the tree a bit, rocking it slightly so that the water finds every hole and sucks the fine soil in about the roots. Start planting now.

Here is a list of some of the best flowering trees: To frame a door or gate the Hope crabapple is very popular. It has beautiful flagrant deep rose blooms in May, is about 20 feet tall with erect shape. In spring the foliage is deep maroon, from midsummer to frost the cluster of small red fruit which gleam brightly along the branches make fine jelly. It is perfectly hardy, easy to grow, thriving in any soil.

The purple-leafed plum is easy to grow, ideal for a small yard. It has rose flowers in May, and grows about 10 feet in an upright shape.

To add heights to borders the Nanking cherry, Sargent crabapple and Bechtel crabapple are useful. The cherry grows to about 12 feet, blooms in April-May, with white blossoms. It is bushy.

The Sargent crab has a white bloom in May, growing about 8 feet, and has a spreading irregular shape. The Bechtel crab has pink blossoms in May, and grows like an apple tree, about 15 feet high.

For colorful background the Shadbush grows a tall and slender 20 feet. It has white blossoms in April and May.

Almey crab has bright pink blossoms in May. It has an erect shape, 12 feet high. In September it has red dollar sized crabs.

Paul's Scarlet Hawthorn has double rose red blossoms like small fragrant roses in May and June. It is a dense erect 20 feet. Its small red apples make delicious jelly.

Rosezalea blooms in late spring. It provides a more solid mass of color than most any easy-to-grow shrub. In fall the small bright apples which line its branches are fine for jelly.

Bushberries are a mass of white bloom in early spring, and loaded with sweet delicious bright red berries, fine for eating or they make wonderful jam of superb flavor and color.

American cranberry grows 8 feet. Its huge white flower clusters are about four inches across. Flowers are followed by scarlet berries which cling to the branches all winter if not harvested. Foliage turns brilliant scarlet in fall.

The most startling innovation in fruit trees is the dwarf tree. Needless to say when we plant fruit trees for bloom we anticipate the fruit, too. It is amazing that the apples and pears grown on these modern dwarf trees are just are just as large and fine in every way as the same varieties produced on standard orchard trees.

The size of the dwarf trees now offered are controlled in two ways. The wanted variety of apple or pear is grafted on a root which limits the size of the top. For pears this is usually quince roots. For all the areas with wind and rigorous winters there is a new race of dwarf apple trees grown with strong roots and a potent section of the hardy Clark dwarfing understock set into the trunk. Both methods produce early bearing trees; a few varieties will give you some fruit the second year. The fruit can be picked without a ladder; also no fruit is grown today without benefit of sprays—the dwarf fruit can be sprayed as easily as roses.

All dwarfs need annual pruning and feeding to keep them at peak performance. Pruning can be done with a pair of good hand pruners. It consists of removing the busy center growth and heading back all branches a fourth to a third. This is best done in late winter. Nipping back extra long shoots twice during the summer is also beneficial.

If your space is limited try the five-in-one apple tree—Red Delicious, Grimes Golden, Stayman's Winesap, Jonathan and Yellow Transparent. They ripen at different times and give you fruit over a much longer period.

The red leafed peach is a new ornamental with deep rose blossoms against the red foliage. These trees produce a full crop of perfectly round peaches, just the right size for pickling.

Dwarf trees don't need an acre to grow. They require no more space than lilacs, altheas or snowball bushes do. They can be planted as foundation shrubs wherever there is sun. Pansies and tulips are at their prettiest below apple blossoms and marigolds are gay by the time the apples are ripe.

The Angel Falls in Eastern Venezula has a total drop of 3,212 feet.

Did Brother Go to Prison To Aid Other?

NEW YORK (AP)—Did one loyal brother go to prison to help his "black sheep" brother?

That is the question Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard must decide after hearing this story yesterday after hearing this story yesterday from Atty. Benjamin Schnider:

Anthony Pisciatta, 28, was "the black sheep of the family. We was always looking for an easy way to make an easy dollar."

But his brother Rosario, 32, led "an exemplary life."

One day Anthony asked Rosario to deliver a package. His easy-going brother took the package—and was arrested. It contained narcotics.

Anthony also was arrested—and for him it wasn't the first time.

When Rosariso shouted his innocense, the U. S. attorney said the maximum sentence would be imposed if the case went to trial.

Anthony urged his brother to plead guilty so that Antohny, who had a record, wouldn't get too stiff a sentence. A lawyer told Rosario the judge probably would give him six months at the most.

So both brothers pleaded guilty tao peddling narcotics. Anthany got nine years. Rosario got seven years. They went to prison about a year ago.

Rosario wrote Judge Goddard from prison, saying he was innocent. The case was turned over to the Legal Aid Society and schmier was assigned.

"I received a letter from Anthony," Schmier told the judge, "and, believe fe it was written in blood. He said his conscience bothered him so much he couludn't sleep nights and he swore his brother was innocent."

After hearing the story, Judge Goddard ordered Rosario to enter a plea of innocent. If the brother proves his case, he will be a free man.

Neidholdt Takes 60,000 Mile Trip

"It's a long way to Tipperary," but that's nothing compared to the 60,000-mile ocean trip made by Navy men serving aboard the destroyer USS Porterfield, such as Kenneth Neidholdt, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Neidholt of 1700 South Montgomery, Sedalia.

The Poterfield has covered the 60,000 miles since it left for Korea in July of 1951. In Korea, the Porterfield has taken part in the bombardment of the Songjin-Chongjin area in Communist east coast territory, as part of the United Nations Blockading and Escort Force, Task Force 95.

In the near future, the Porterfield will return to the United States after completing its present mission of protecting friendly islands off the western coast of Korea.

Dowdy Is Honor Man Of San Diego Class

The graduating recruits at the U. S. Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif., chose their "Honorman" to be Robert R. Dowdy, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Dowdy, an husband of Mrs. Donna J. Dowdy, all of 1400 South Ohio, Sedalia.

Dowdy entered the Naval service Nov. 27, 1951. Before this he was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School.

Honormen are chosen by vote of the company membership on basis of leadership, sportsmanship, military bearing, initiative, response to orders, qualifications of a good shipmate, and application to recruit training.

At a regimental review each Honorman is presented an engraved silver identification bracelet and a certificate of his award.

Crowd Attends Dance Given by Saddle Club

The dance sponsored by the State Fair Saddle Club of Sedalia last Saturday night was a big success and was attended by a large crowd.

During the evening the following received gifts: Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Williams, Miss Rosalie Kirkpatrick, Clay Brown, Mr. Thomas and Dewey Swopes. The gifts, which were donated by the Cash—Hardware Company, were in keeping with the Saddle Club idea—miniature statues of horses and leather whips. A jewelry box was also given.

Danvers Robbery Rates High In Gigantic Crimes of U. S.

By The Associated Press

The $681,000 robbery of an armored car in Danvers, Mass., yesterday will take a high spot among the gigantic crimes in American criminal history.

It is far from the biggest in over-all value, but for cash lootings it probably stands second only to the Brink's Money Express robbery in Boston, Jan 17, 1950. Robberies, burglaries and other thefts have involved millions of dollars in cash, bonds, jewels, furs, postage stamps and other sundry goods in the United States since World War II ended. But the era between the two wars produced the largest hauls.

But infant 1952 already has two of the biggest "jobs" pulled off in the post-war period.

On Feb. 29, a million and a half dollars in jewelry, cash and securities were taken from a safe in the Reno mansion of La Vere Redfield. Several men and women already have been arrested in connection with this burglary.

However, the cash involved in the Redfield burglary was no where near the $681,000 taken yesterday from a United States Trucking Company money express armored car in the Massachusetts town while the guards were in a cafe.

An Associated Press survey showed that the Danvers cash amount was second only to the $1,200,000 taken in the Brink's robbery in Boston.

The Brink's robbery, at the time, was called the biggest cash robbery on record by a spokesman for the National Security Corporation.

Checks totaling more than a half a million dollars brought the Brink's total to $1,700,000. The Brink's case has not been solved.

What probably ranks as the third biggest theft in recent years was the looting of $7,000 worth of valuable stamps from the Bruno Lisker stamp collector's shop Dec. 14, 1949, in New York.

It was the wild gang days of the '20s and '30s that produced the really big jobs.

The biggest holdup listed by the National Security Corporation was a $2,268,700 job in Lincoln, Nen., in September, 1930. Seven men, including the now-imprisoned Edward Wilhelm Bentz, made off with the haul from the Lincoln National Bank. But only $25,000 was in cash.

Gerald Chapman, who was executed for killing a Connecticut policeman, pulled off a mail truck robbery in New York in 1921. The proceeds have been given as between two millions and $2,400,000.

Truman Asks Authority For the MSA

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—President Truman today asked Congress for extended authority to subsidize foreign relief shipments and said he planned to ask later for power to continue guarantees of publishing investments abroad.

The Mutual Security Agency now has such powers — as did the old Economic Co-Operation Administration which it replaced — but authority expires June 30.

Legislation is before Congress to authorize the President to designate any government department or agency to continue subsidizing relief shipments.

In identical letters to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, the President urged passage of this measure, and added:

"At an early date there also will be submitted for the consideration of the Congress a request for authority to enable the government to continue the work of guaranteeing investments in informational media enterprises."

The President said authority for both purposes is needed to support "the mutual security efforts of the free world." He said "it is essential that these activities be carried on after June 30, 1952."

His letter was largely a report on legislative authority Mutual Security Director W. Averell Harriman will need when some of the power he now has under old ECA legislation expires June 30.

"The Congress, in the Mutual Security Act, reaffirmed the proposition that the mutual security efforts of the free world should not fail because some co-operating countries can not now provide all the physical and financial resources required for defense mobilization," the President wrote.

"The Mutual Security Agency already has adjusted its program and organization, and has curtailed some functions and modified others, in order to direct its full effort to the objectives of the mutual security program."

Two Hours to Live 2 Years Ago, He Now Resumes Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two years ago a doctor looked at the crushed form of Barclay Allen, brilliant young pianist who had been mangled in an auto accident. The doctor told Mrs. Allen:

"Your husband has two hours to live."

Today Allen is ready to resume his musical career, and he credits his survival to his faith in God.

"I was never a religious man," admitted the pianist, who is now paralyzed from the chest down. "But I believe that God was the reason that I came through. It is not something that came to me in a blinding flash, but little by little. What other reason could there be, when the doctors had given up hope for me?"

A couple of years ago, Allen was riding the crest of a sensational musical career. A dynamic pianist, he had made a hit as solo artist with the Freddy Martin band. So great was his success that he was able to form a band and tour under his own banner. Then fate intervened.

"I was playing a date at the Cal-Neva Lodge at Lake Tahoe," he recalled. "I finished late that night and was driving home when I fell asleep. The car hit an embankment and overturned."

Allen became intimate with the face of death in the months that followed. He was in the hospital almost continuously for operations and ailments that threatened to take his life. The musicians of Denver, his home town, rallied to help pay the immense medical bills.

When it appeared that he would survive, Allen was taken to his North Hollywood home, where he lives with his wife and two children, Ronnie, 10, and Peggy, 8. Then he faced the problem of finding a return to useful life. Helping him in this was the church.

"After I came home, my wife became active in the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in North Hollywood. She got me to go to church with her, and it was a rewarding experience. I began to realize the scheme of things.

"I used to think of church goers as uninteresting people. But now I have a great respect and admiration for them. I attended a brotherhood meeting at church last night, and I met some fine men."

With the help of his new-found faith and his desire to return to a productive life, Allen began to work at the piano. He started by playing a few minutes each day and increasing as much as the pain and discomfort would let him.

"At first, I didn't know whether I was going to be able to use my left arm or not," he said. "It was lame for a while, but by exercising, I got the use of it back. I think God took care of that, too."

Now he is able to play a half-hour or more at a time, and he feels that his ability is approaching that of his pre-accident days. His only difficulty is that he cannot play the entire range of the keyboard, since he cannot move in his wheelchair. But he is working on a way to overcome that.

He has already made his return to public performance. He played for the Ash Wednesday holy communion service at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. It was a way of thanking the church members, whose prayers he feels helped him along the road to recovery.

Trellis Mae Starts Boys' Club With 'Sip Suit' Style

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It was the evening of Wilbur Peeble's annual reunion with his old college chums, a stag affair.

"I hope you won't be lonely," he said guiltily to his wife, Trellis Mae. "I may be a little late getting home."

His wife looked at him in cold silence and held out a small bundle.

"What's this?" said Wilbur, surprised.

"It's your new drinking costume," replied Trellis Mae. "I made it for you myself, dear."

"What in the world do I need with a drinking costume?" demanded her husband.

"I got the idea from a newspaper article," purred Trellis Mae. "It told about a millionaire sportsman who took his drinking so seriously that he dressed for it like a Viking—in a horned helmet and a suit of chain mail."

"Oh, yeah, I remember," said Wilbur. "The motto of the Viking society was, 'a Viking can always drink one more.' But—his voice grew indignant—"what has that got to do with me?"

"Well, everytime you come home from one of your college reunions you have a black eye, your clothes are mussed or torn, or your shoes are scuffed," said Trellis Mae. "So I invented a safety drinking uniform for you."

Her husband mutely unwrapped the package. Out came his high school football helmet, a suit of green coveralls, some heavy winter overshoes, and a pair of heavy leather gloves. Across the front of the helmet was lettered a sign:

"Sip in safety."

"I'm not going to take along this junk," Wilbur said flatly. You're being absolutely silly."

"You are going to take it!" said Trellis Mae firmly. "And you're going to promise me you won't take a single drink without first putting it on over your regular clothes—or you're not leaving this house!"

After an hour of stirring debate, Wilbur stomped out the door—carrying the package under his arm.

Trellis Mae fell asleep a few hours later with a victory smile still on her face. At 3:30 a. m. she was awakened by a pounding on her door. She opened it and saw a policeman holding a nightstick in one hand—and the sagging form of her husband in the other. Wilbur was wearing his overshoes and coveralls and blinked owlishly at her from beneath his old football helmet.

"Does this thing belong to you, ma'am?" asked the policeman, pointing to Wilbur.

"Yes, I'm afraid so," sighed Trellis Mae. "Do you want me to sign for him, officer?"

"No, just take him off my hands," said the cop. "He said he lived here but I though he was a prowler from Mars or something."

Wilbur undressed and climbed with tired gratitude into bed. Trellis Mae lay wide-eyed and sleepless in the next bed.

"Well?" she finally demanded.

"I sure took a kidding from the boys when I first unwrapped the bundle," said Wilbur. "But after a couple of drinks they all wanted to wear the costume, too. I had an awful time getting it back from them when the party broke up."

H-m-m-m-m," said his wife.

"It made such a hit with the boys they formed a new drinking society on the spot," said Wilbur. "They told me to ask you, as a favor, to design another uniform for us—one not quite so heavy."

"And what is the name of your new society, may I ask," said Trellis Mae icily.

"The Safety Sippers Club," answered Wilbur drowsily. "Our motto is, 'what you sip safely can't hurt you'."

New Jersey 'Phone Strike Is Settled

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—State Treasurer Walter Margetts announced today a settlement in the strike of almost 7,000 New Jersey Bell Telephone Company workers.

The agreement in the wage dispute was reached at a marathon mediation session here, which lasted until early this morning.

Margetts said the settlement would end the walkout of plant and accounting employes that started at yesterday and hampered long-distance and non-dial calls.

Margetts said both sides agreed on terms for a new contract that would give weekly pay boosts of from $4 to $6.50 to plant workers and from $3.50 to $5 weekly to the accounting employes.

Progress Only If It Is Will Of The People

Speaker at Kiwanis, Lions Meeting Tells Of US Developments

"There will be progress only so long as it is the wish and will of the people to provide conditions that make it possible," declared Vernon S. Peterson, midwest manager of the Du Pont Company's extension division, speaking on "The Corporation as a Citizen," before a joint meeting of the Sedalia Kiwanis and Lions clubs in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

Mr. Peterson reviewed industrial progress and chemical developments under modern American corporations and the joint responsibility of the people and business to encourage such progress if they are to obtain the better standards of living such developments bring about.

Dan Drew was program chairman. President Walter Kennedy, of Kiwanis, and President Harold Seaburg, of Lions, presided.

Announcement by Vice-President William Ward was made that Kiwanis Pancake Day will be held in the basement dining room of the First Methodist Church Saturday, April 19. Proceeds will go towards support of the Little League Baseball team.

Bert Hathaway urged all club members to vote in next Tuesday's local election.

Guests were: Ernest Freyman, with R. E. Mullen, and A. L. Nixon and T. F. Dungan, DuPont company representative, Joplin.

Involved were a Yellow Cab, driven by Jerry Kesters, 817 West Third; a 1950 truck, driven by Raymond E. Hays, 413 East Broadway; and a third car, driven by Bob Austin, 304 West Broadway.

According to police information, the accident occurred when the truck hit the rear of the cab and knocked it into the car. The cab and the car were parked waiting for a train to pass.

Hays said his foot slipped off the brake pedal, and he was unable to stop.

Settlement was reportedly made at the scene.

A car driven by Jack Spalding, 111 West Main, received slight damages at 5 p. m. Wednesday when, according to a police report, a second car driven by Virgil Madorin, 1425 South Prospect, pulled from the curb at Fifth and Osage and hit the rear fender of the Spalding car.

Differences were settled at the scene of the accident.

Circuit Court

The $20,000 damage suit of Emma Marcum against Montgomery Ward & Co., is being tried in the Pettis County Circuit Court before Judge Dimmitt Hoffman. The plaintiff seeks damages as a result of an accident on Sept. 20, 1951 when, she alleges, she slipped in the store of that firm.

The jury hearing the case is composed of G. S. Thompson, Art Heineman, C. E. Carroll, Mrs. Glen Miller, Virgil Alderman, Mrs. Nellie Monegan, S. J. Timborious, Mrs. Glen Cox, Mrs. R. C. Parkhurst, Otis Howe, Ira T. Bronson, and Albert Yokeley.

Police Court

The case of Bob Fisher, 201 East Saline, charged with having a dog which bit a child of Mrs. Mildred Dodson, 335 North Randolph, was dismissed by Judge Jerry E. Trotter Thursday morning. Fisher admitted having a dog and told the court he was getting rid of it immediately.

Drunham Clark, who hails from Marshall, California, and other surrounding communities, Thursday was given a $100 fine and 30 days in the city jail on a charge of being drunk. Durnham, last Tuesday, was sentenced to 30-days in the jail on a drunk charge.

Clark's usual plea for clemency was on the grounds he would get out of town and stay out if given another chance. It was the same plea as used last Tuesday.

Clark, when asked how much time he has spent in the city jail during the past year, said that it was far more than two-thirds. He recently completed a 45-day jail sentence on a petit larceny charge, this being assessed since the first of the year. Clark would up the 1951 year with a jail sentence. Among his sentences were 10-days; 15-days and 100-days in the city jail.

Five overtime parking violators who failed to appear in court Thursday morning forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each.

Japanese Exchange Student Speaks to Methodist Men

Toyomasa Fuse, young Rotary exchange student from Japan who is attending Missouri Valley College at Marshall, was the speaker at the dinner given Wednesday night by the Methodist Men of the Fifth Street Methodist Church at which their wives were special guests.

The young Japanese speaker compares his country with America in a humorous manner, but there is seriousness in his talk, too, and wisdom in his desire to help bring about a better understanding between countries for a world peace.

Believing that people should be Christians first and then Japanese, Americans or whatever they are, young Fuse, told of seeing American soldiers, both white and Negro, worshiping side by side with Japanese Christians in Japan, worshiping the same God and the American soldiers singing the hymns in English that the Japanese sang in Japanese.

It was hard to become accustomed to the informal, carefree, slang talking Americans, the speaker said, and his father, he added, will probably be shocked at the American customs he has picked up. However, now that he understands them, Fuse said, he has begun to like some of the customs.

The English language, said Fuse, who speaks three other languages, is the hardest language to learn because it has so many words that are pronounced the same way but are spelled differently and have different meanings — and so many words that mean the same thing. As an illustration he told of an argument he had with a waiter over a cup of hot chocolate when he first landed in San Francisco. "I insisted on paying ten cents for it," he said, "while the waiter said it was a dime."

Another illustration was when he started playing basketball at Missouri Valley. The rooters from the side lines urged him on and he was doing pretty good until someone yelled: "Get on the ball, Toyomasa." And that, he said, was exactly what he did — he sat on the basketball.

The Americans are never satisfied, the speaker said. They always want to do something better than someone else. And that is why they have progressed while other nations follow their ancestors doing things the same way their ancestors did.

America, Fuse said, is the most blessed country in the world today. And he told his audience that when he goes back he will go with a definite mission — to bring a closer relationship between Japan and America. His plans are to go to Europe to work in the United Nations, he said.

The speaker was introduced by Kenneth Anderson, president of the Methodist Men.

Invocation was given by Sylvan Woolery and new members of the organization were welcomed by Siegel Woodard, who also gave the benediction.

Mrs. Lee Soxman was accompanist for the group singing.

A special guest of the evening was James Rila, also a student of Missouri Valley, who accompanied Toyomasa Fuse to Sedalia.

Square Dance Registrations Closing Soon

Friday night at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria and Saturday night at the Sacred Heart School gymnasium two square dances will begin a series of eight weeks of lessons, under the sponsorship of the Sedalia Square Dance Association, according to Floyd Priddy, president.

The Friday night class has already completed nine lessons and is open only to the present members of that class. The Saturday night class has completed five lessons and still has a few openings for additional members. After Saturday, March 29, no additional registrations will be accepted for either class.

The members of the Friday night class just completed have been offered the opportunity to transfer to the Saturday night class if it is more convenient for them.

Charles Gross of Kansas City will continue as the instructor. For the next eight weeks well over 200 square dancers will step to the lively tunes of "Ragtime Annie," "Possum Sop" and other favorites.

Former Agriculture Dept. Aide at Mercy of Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators heard today a former Agriculture Department aide sold $40,000 worth of government grain stored under seal of his farm in South Dakota.

That aide, Alfred O'Neill, earlier had been excused as a witness before the Senate Agriculture Committee after Chairman Ellender (D-La) told him "if I were in your place, I would not make any answers."

A federal grand jury is investigating charges that O'Neill misappropriated large quantities of grain stored on his farm near Ipswitch, S. D.

O'Neill was sworn as a witness before the Senate Agriculture committee and then asked "what do you men think" about whether he should testify.

"If I were in your place," said Chairman Ellender (D-La) "I would not make answers.

Ellender told him again later he believes whatever O'Neill said before the committee "might prejudice the (grand) jury. They may use what you say here against you. The committee doesn't want to take advantage of you."

He is a former chairman of the Production Marketing Administration committee for his home county. The PMA is under the Department of Agriculture.

The committee is making a detailed study of charges of "fantastic profits" by private grain storers and of misdeeds of department officials.

O'Neill did not specifically say that he declined to testify, but Sen. Kem (R-Mo) told the committee O'Neill "in effect has declined to testify on the grounds his answers might tend to incriminate him."

The investigation into grain deals in South Dakota followed a committee probe into operations by private businessmen of grain storage facilities at Camp Crowder, Mo.

Yesterday Sen. Mundt (R-SD) ripped away some of the secrecy surrounding an official report of alleged payoff demands in the Camp Crowder venture.

Mundt's action dealt with reports that two former federal officials — both now dead — were involved in a reputed payoff.

U. S. Recognizes New Cuban Government

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The United States today became the 18th nation to recognize the revolutionary government of Fulgencio Batista.

The announcement of American recognition came as ousted President Carlos Prio Socarras appealed from exile in Miami, Fla., to the Cuban Senate not to recognize the Batista regime, which seized power March 10.

The newspaper Information said the new regime was expected to abolish the 1940 constitution soon to avoid "legal entanglements." There was no confirmation from official sources.

Meanwhile, the presidential palace announced that contractors doing business with Prio's government had raised $547,200 to aid the presidential campaign for Carlos Hevia. He was the candidate backed by Prio.

J. W. Standard Heads Whittier Recreation Assn.

J. W. Standard was elected president of the Whittier Recreation Association at the regular business meeting Tuesday with other officers elected as follows:

Earl Bremmer, vice-president; Robert Burford, treasurer; Mrs. Ruby L. Standard, recording secretary; George Harrison, program director; Virgil Reed, purchasing director; Mrs. Lillian Sylvester, membership chairman; V. C. Richardson, George Ratje and Harry Arhold, committee on playground equipment.

A short talk was made by Mr. Standard on the progress made in the past year by the association. The fabrication and erection of playground equipment consisting of 30 swings and several teeter-totters may be a deciding factor in the record established in checking the delinquency of children at that school, he said. Mr. Standard also stressed the need for additional playground equipment which will be one of the major projects of the association for the coming year.

The association also purchased back drops for the stage in Whittier auditorium. The support of the public in activities sponsored by the association has been exceptionally good and plans are being made to present again this year an assortment of wholesome entertainment. The association will also be glad to co-operate with any other organization on any project beneficial to the school or community.

The regular meeting dates of the Whittier Recreation Association will be on the first Thursday of every month and these meetings are always open to the public.

9 Green Children Ordered to Three Separate Homes

CHICAGO (AP)—The nine young Green children, whose mother and eldest sister drowned two months ago, were ordered placed in three separate homes yesterday.

Custody of the motherless children, who have been living with their paternal grandparents since the tragedy, was decided by Judge Robert J. Dunne of family court. Patricia, 15, the eldest, sobbed as the judge announced his decision.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Green, both in their 60s, of suburban Willow Springs told Judge Dunne they did not have the financial means to continue caring for their grandchildren.

The children's father, Theodore, 41, has not been heard from since he was divorced from Mrs. Rose Green last June. Mrs. Green drowned in the Des Plaines River Jan. 24 in a futile attempt to rescue her eldest daughter, Carol Jean, 16.

Patricia was allowed to remain in temporary custody of her grandparents until April 9, when another hearing on her case will be held. The three youngest children were ordered placed in an unidentified foster home. The five other children were placed in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Childrens' School at Normal, Ill., near Bloomington.

PAINTING RESTORED—Nardo Di Cione's 14th-Century masterpiece, "St. John the Baptist," is shown at the half-way point in the restoration process being applied to 14 Italian Renaissance paintings which will be placed on exhibit at the Yale Art Gallery, New Haven, Conn.

Foreign Ministers Of 18 Nations Talk Money, Trade

PARIS (AP)—Finance and foreign ministers from 18 nations gathered here today to discuss Western Europe's money and trade problems in the fact of mounting rearmament.

The ministers started their three-day talks at the headquarters of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation OEEC, near the Palais de Chaillot, where another group of ministers from 16 countries is debating a "green pool" aimed at growing Europe more and cheaper food.

The main items on the crowded agenda of the OEEC ministers were:

1. How to raise by 25 per cent in the next five years Europe's productivity in six basic fields-coal, steel, agriculture, electricity, manpower and housing.

2. Suggested reforms and future organization of the European Payments Union, whose original mandate is due to end June 30.

3. A proposed managing board of senior trade officials to study the problems of increased liberalization of European trade and to draw up a new "common list" of products which all member countries agree to free from quotas.

The 25 per cent five-year expansion program was agreed on in principle by a declaration of the ministers last Aug. 29. This time they are studying how to put it into operation.

Stormy Weather Grounds Planes In Korea Today

SEOUL (AP) — Stormy weather over North Korea grounded Allied warplanes early today. On the 155-mile battlefront only light, squad-size Communist thrusts were reported.

Far East air Forces planes mounted 925 sorties Wednesday. During the night Japan-based B-29 Superforts dropped 60,000 pounds of air-bursting bombs on the front.

Light bombers in night attacks knocked out 25 Communist supply vehicles.

U. N. naval aircraft and surface craft pounded both Korean coasts Wednesday. Pilots from the U. S. carriers Philippine Sea and Valley Forge reported they blasted 256 new gaps in Red rail lines.

Carrier - based Marine pilots knocked out a Communist village used as a command post for enemy troops.

The cruisers Manchester and Rochester with escorting destroyers smashed enemy positions along the Eastern Coast.

In predicting the weather, the forecaster generally tries to determine the distance and direction of travel of high and low pressure areas in the atmosphere.

Six young Sedalians, who have been close friends and have run around together for the past several years, enlisted together recently in the United States Air Force.

In the group are Larry Ray Vilmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Vilmer, 1012 East Tenth; Myron T. Herrick, son of Mrs. Tom Herrick, 1505 South Kentucky; Robert J. Cahill, son of Mrs. Ruby Cahill, 1423 South Moniteau; Michael Battles, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Battles, 1715 South Beacon; Virgil Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Rodgers, 1620 South Beacon and Vernon Sutherlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sutherlin, 1824 East Ninth.

Herrick was graduated from the Smith-Cotton High School in the class of 1950 and until his enlistment attended Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg.

Sutherlin was graduated from Smtih-Cotton in 1949 and has also been attending CMSC.

Rogers, a graduate in the 1951 class from Smith-Cotton, has since been employed by his father, Cal Rodgers.

Vilmer, a Smith-Cotton graduate in the year 1949, has atttended Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg for the past three years.

Battles, who is a 1950 graduate of Smith-Cotton, attended Central Business College in Sedalia one year and the University of Missouri at Columbia one year.

Cahill, a 1949 Smith-Cotton graduate, has since been employed at the Union Savings Bank.

The group left Kansas City Friday, March 14, for Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

Sgt. Billy Burrus A Cook at Ft. Ord

FT. ORD, Calif.—Sgt. Billy G. Burrus, 24, of Sedalia, has been assigned to headquarters company 6230th Reception Center as a cook.

Sergeant Burrus's wife, Betty Lou, lives at 213 West 10th, Sedalia. The sergeant is the son of H. W. Burrus of the same address.

Prior to reporting to Fort Ord, Sergeant Burrus was with the 506th Military Police Company at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He served over two years in Okinawa, returning in December 1951.

General Inspects Columbia Guard Unit

Maj. Gen. John C. McLaughlin, of Sedalia, commander of the 35th Infantry division, Missouri National Guard, conducted a command inspection of Battery B, 128th Fjeld Artillery battalion, at the Columbia Armory Monday night. He termed the battery "quite satisfactory."

Assisting the general were Lt. Col. James M. Blue, adjutant general of the 35th division, and Lt. Col. Robert B. Hall, division army instructor, both of Sedalia.

Others present were Lt. Richard Shelley, the general's aide, Sedalia; Lt. Col. Harold L. Beynor, commanding officer of the 128th Field Artillery battalion: Maj. Charles C. Gage, battalion executive officer, and Captain James N. Goreham, regular army instructor for the battalion, all of Mexico.

Unidentified Gunman Kills 3, Wounds 2

MERRIMAN, Nebr. (AP)—Three persons were shot to death and two others wounded at a ranch five miles south of here early today by an unidentified assailant who used two guns.

Dead were George Mensinger about 30, his 24-year old wife, and a neighbor, Deo Gardner, about 50. Wounded were the Mensinger's 10 month old boy and another neighbor, Cliff McDonald, about 35.

Roadblocks were thrown up in northwestern Nebraska and six planes were being pressed into the search for the slayer who fled in a car.

Soviet Newspapers Ridicule Ridgway

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet newspapers today ridculed Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's recent statement to Japanese editors on the danger to Japan from Russian forces in Siberia.

The papers said the supreme Allied commander in Japan tried to "frighten his hearers with the most awkward fabrications on the numerical strength of the Soviet armed forces 'at all key points in Siberia.'"

22 More Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 22 additional battle casualties in Korea in a new list (No. 529) that reported nine killed, 12 wounded and one injured.

Chinese Commies Control Church, Use Facilities

MONTREAL (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Y. Y. Tsu, assistant Anglican bishop of Hong Kong, said last night the Chinese Communist government now has full control of the church in China and uses many of its facilities for political purposes.

In a meeting at McGill University, Bishop Tsu, former general secretary of the National Chinese Church, said that between 1949 and 1951 the Communist policy followed three well-defined stages.

When the Reds came down from the north in 1949 in the drive that eventually won them control of all China, he said, they followed a "common front" policy.

Well-disciplined troops prevented disorder and protected church and other property. Communist officials proclaimed themselves friends of all who were sincerely interested in China's welfare. They presentd a program of the "new democracy" that, on paper, guaranteed freedom of religion and other civil rights.

The second period, "the period of penetration," began about 1950, Bishop Tsu said. "Christians soon found that when the Communists said they were bringing freedom to "the people" they meant only to those actively in favor of the Red regime and program. The others became reactionaries and "enemies of the state." Many ended up during "corrective" penal labor.

In 1951, he continued, began the period of "complete control." All but the most subservient church officials were eliminated from effective control of church affairs and even church services were used for Communist propaganda.

More Federal Employes In Missouri Than All Population of Pettis

Civilian employees of the federal government stationed in Missouri total more than 1½ times the population of Pettis county, the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey said today.

The 1950 census listed Pettis county's population at 31,577 while federal civilian employees in Misouri totaled 55,481 as of Sept. 30, 1951, according to the Civil Service Commission.

The Survey released the figures to emphasize the need for federal agencies to keep their personnel at a minimum.

MOVES TO KANSAS— Chester L. Chalfant, 1014 East 11th, has been transferred to southern Kansas as field supervisor for the J. R. Watkins Co. He has been working in northern part of Pettis County. His family will move with him as soon as he decides where he will be located and is able to find living quarters.

Country's Oldest Triplets Are 84

MARLBORO, Mass. (AP) — Three spry ladies — possibly the country's oldest triplets — are observing their 84th birthday today.

The former Faith, Hope and Charity Coughlin are identical triplets.

They looked so much alike when they started school in their native North Brookfield, their mother put them into different dresses to give the teachers a break.

When they wear identical dresses now, even old neighbors get confused. But they only put them on for special occasions.

All widows, the triplets still are exactly the same height and weigh almost the same. All boast of good teeth. None worries about diets.

Their once blonde hair has turned a uniform gray. Although all wear spectacles, their blue eves are still bright.

The three live together although they never were too far apart to visit each other frequently during their married lives.

All in good health today, the triplets have never had a serious illness.

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality . . . and help you get the most from your telephone service.

A friend of mine who travels a lot tells me she has found a way to improve her telephoning on trips.

"It saves a lot of trouble," she says, "to have a list of the numbers you may want to call with you. I carry mine in a handy little book. And you would be surprised how much faster long distance calls go through when you give the operator the number you want." Incidentally, the telephone business office will be glad to give you a pocket-size book—handy for use at home, office, or when traveling—to list your long distance numbers in, and it's free for the asking.

My mail shows that many people have friends who use an extra-loud voice over the telephone. They ask, "Does shouting over the wire help?"

No, quite the contrary. A loud voice is always unpleasant and does not mean that you can be heard better. A special effort to talk clearly and distinctly into the transmitter makes it easier for your friends to understand you, and it brings rewards in the form of a more pleasant telephone personality.

A correspondent who lives in the country on a party line asks, "Should emergency calls be given special priority?"

I think the obvious answer is "Yes, of course." Don't you? After all, it's just plain good manners to let your party line neighbor use the telephone when some special need arises. And then, too, the more consideration you show, the more consideration you will receive.

Coal Makes Reddy Work

Coal plays an important part in the generation of electricity.

For instance, more than 191,000 tons of coal are represented in the amounts of electricity delivered each year to customers of the Missouri Public Service Company.

Coal produces the energy that runs along the wires and into your home instantly ready at your flick-of-a-switch command to cook your meals, clean the house, power radios and television, help do the farm chores or brighten the night.

For coal is Reddy Kilowatt's greatest helper. Coal makes Reddy work.

Russia Waited for Western World to Become Easy Pickings

By JAMES HARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—For seven years since the war Russia has lain like a great animal across the frontiers of Europe, watching the West, waiting for it to become easy picking.

The Western Allies tried to persuade Russia to agree to a peace treaty covering all Germany. No good. The longer the Reds held Eastern Germany the more time they had to train German Communists stooges.

Some day, maybe, they could take over all Germany and make it a servant, work shop and satellite of Russia. The West decided not to wait forever. It let the West Germans form their own government.

The Russians screamed, for an anti-Communist West Germay, organized under its own government, would be a potent block against East German Communists taking over both zones of Germany.

But for Russia worse was to come. The Western Allies decided, in agreeing to create a European army under one command, to let West German troops be part of that new and unified single army in case of war with Russia.

This unified army, which would put Western Germany into a military alliance with the rest of Western Europe, was the last thing the Russians wanted and once again they reacted.

On March 10 they made a proposal to the U. S., Britain and France which the three rejected this week. The Russian proposal and the Allied answers were like this:

1. Russia suggested she and the Allies get together and work out a peace treaty for a united Germany. The Russians failed to say how Germany should be unified.

The Allies agreed to a unified Germany but only as a result of free elections in all Germany, including the Russian zone, supervised by the United Nations.

2. Russia suggested this new, united Germany should be free to build up a military machine of its own and that it be forbidden to enter into any military alliances with other countries. The Allies rejected this, calling it a step backward from a new era of co-operation among nations.

It's plain that the Russians, who stalled on a German peace treaty for seven years, were startled into these suggestions when they saw Western Germany making a military tie-up with the West. They hoped to break up the Atlantic Alliance.

And this Russian proposal can be interpreted as an act of desparation, too, with Russia willing to take the chance of a rearmed Germany turning on Russia some day. But it can be looked upon in another way:

First things first—the Russians want to smash the Atlantic Alliance; second, a reatmed Germany, if the German Communists got control, would tie up with Russia. That would be the end of Western European democracy since Western Europe's army would be helpless against combined German-Russian forces.

Further, this proposal of a unified and rearmed Germany certainly has propaganda benefits for Russia among many, if not all; Germans.

And once Russia maneuvered the West into treaty talks; the Russians could stall indefinitely, knowing that the uncertainty about the future would gum up the Western defense plans. The West said, "No, thanks," but not in such a way as to anger the Germans.

Underwater Volcano Blows Rocks 3,000 To 4,000 Feet High

MANILA (AP) — The Philippines' underwater volcano is blowing rocks 3,000 to 4,000 feet into the air, a Manila Evening News survey party reported today.

The party's boat stayed a mile away from the rumbling volcano —30 miles from the northeastern tip of Luzon — because the ocean in the immediate vicinity "fairly sizzled." Huge Boulders tumbled about the rim of a volcano cone, the News said, and smaller rocks show high into the smoke cloud.

Photographs indicated the cone still rose 250 feet above the water but covered a larger area than when viewed from the air March 19.

Argentina Wants Expanding Social Security Program

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Social security should be expanded, Argentina says, to have the government or your boss pay for your wedding and furnish your house. Then there ought to be free care and food for the babies for awhile after they're born.

An Argentine resolution today at the Inter-American Social Security Congress proposed such sweeping benefits for Latin American countries.

Lovellette Drops In 33 Points As Kansas Wins Collegiate Title

Jayhawks Defeat St. Johns 80-63 In Seattle Finals

SEATTLE (AP)—Kansas rules the world of collegiate basketball today and big Clyde Lovellette wears the crown.

The Jayhawks won the NCAA title in convincing fashion last night by downing St. John's of Brooklyn, 80-63, in the championship finale of the 1952 playoffs.

Lovellette, keeping up a terrific scoring pace with the championship chips down, led the way with 33 points. His record-breaking performance brought him the designation as most valuable player of the tourney.

The Kansas conquest came after Illinois won third ranking by downing Santa Clara, 67-64, in the consolation game. Kansas had beaten Santa Clara and St. John's had upset Illinois in the semi-finals.

Kansas, which was rated eighth by the nation's sports writers in the 1952 Associated Press poll, never gave the Redmen of St. John's a chance in the payoff game. Lovellette put the Kansans in front with an opening free throw and they stayed there all the way.

The Jayhawks set up an iron defense that kept the Redmen in check so they never were able to keep a sustained offensive clicking until the final period. It was the only one in which the losers held a scoring edge.

Meanwhile, Lovellette kept firing his deadly pushups and hook shots to run up a dozen field goals along with nine free throws.

Guard Bill Lienhard and forward Bob Kenny added a dozen points each as they shared the sharpshooting role with Lovellette, and guard Gene Kelley was a spark-plug on the floor.

The 6-foot-9 Lovellette ran his four-game NCAA playoff scoring total to 141 points. He had broken the old record of 83 points in the first three games. It had been set by Don Sunderlage of Illinois last year.

He also set a new free throw record of 35 for the four games. The old record of 27 also was held by Sunderlage.

The tight Kansas defense kept the St. John's star center, Bob Zawoluk fairly well in check through most of the game as Lovellette hung over him like a leaning tower under the basket. Zawoluk got nine points in sparking a fourth quarter St. John's drive, bringing his game total to 20. He fouled out 3½ minutes before the end.

ON THE WAY UP—Clyde Lovellette (No. 16), sensational scoring center for Kansas University, tips in points against Santa Clara in the NCAA semi-finals in Seattle. The Kansans won the game, 74-55, to go on to the championship tilt with St. John's. Others in on the play are: John Keller (20) and Bill Lienhard (11) of Kansas University, and Herb Schoenstien, left, and Dick Soares, rear, of Santa Clara. (NEA Telephoto.)

Davey Pounds Williams 'Till Bout Is Stopped

CHICAGO (AP)—After it was all over you would expect the winning fighter to say: "I murdered de guy."

Instead you heard Chuck Davey orate: "I'm glad the referee stopped it because I would hate to have to see such a great former champion as Ike Williams knocked unconscious."

And then, in Williams' dressing room where he was on a rubbing table with his seconds dabbing cotton on his gashed cheek, his manager said:

"Ike was lightweight champion for six years and was the best with class and punch....three years ago you should have seen him pulverize.."

And so it went last night at Chicago Stadium.

Blinky Palermo, Ike's manager whose license in Illinois has been suspended pending a probe of a police record, hovered over his hasbeen like a mother hen.

"We didn't take Davey seriously enough," Blinky repeated. "Ike would like one more fight. As for a rematch with Jimmy Carter (who dethroned Williams for the lightweight crown 11 months ago) we won't hold him to a return bout now — it wouldn't be fair to the public.

Ike on the dressing table, didn't say a word.

Davey, holder of a masters degree from Michigan State, had graduated to the ranks of a top welterweight contender.

He remained undefeated through 32 professional bouts by scoring a fifth round technical knockout over Williams.

Indians Know They'll Take Loop Pennant

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, starting with Manager Al Lopez, are firmly convinced they will win the 1952 American League pennant, and a majority of baseball men out this way are inclined to agree with them.

The latter agree, at least, to the extent of saying that if the Tribe doesn't beat out the Yankees this time it might as well quit trying. The human frame can stand only so much disappointment.

Last year, with three of their key players—Luke Easter, Larry Doby and Al Rosen—operating at only about half speed, the Indians stayed in the race until close to the end and finally finished a firm second, five games back of the Yanks and six in front of Boston.

Rosen, Doby and big Luke all expect to make substantial comebacks in the approaching race. The club still has four potential 20-game winners in Bob Lemon, Bob Feller, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn, and it has a sound shortstop-second base combination in Ray Boone and Bob Avila. It has reason to expect to win.

The key figure, other baseball men say, is Easter. If the 240-pound Negro slugger can play first base regularly, if his knee operation of the winter proves a complete success, then, they say, the Tribe might indeed move right out in front and stay there. Luke was in and out much of last season, though he still managed to drive in 103 runs.

Doby, who only a couple of years ago stood out as one of the game's really fine centerfielders, fell off badly at bat last season, partly because of leg trouble, and became a sort of forgotten man. He hit only .295, compared to his .326 of the previous year, and dropped from 102 RBI's to 69. That could have been the difference between first and second place right there.

Rosen, the third-basing rookie sensation of 1950 with 37 home runs and 116 RBI's, dropped off to 24 and 102, respectively, and lost 22 points from his batting average. He appears to have his swing back in the groove after giving up intensive golf and is grimly determined to be a big wheel in the pennant drive.

Allen Not Mad at Anybody After KU Team Gets Crown

SEATTLE (AP) — The sometimes bombastic F. C. (Phog) Allen wasn't "mad at anybody" last night.

Allen was all smiles after bucking his way through well-wishers and ardent alumni to the Kansas dressing room after his Jayhawks coasted to an 80-63 victory over St. John's for the NCAA basketball title.

It was Allen's first NCAA title, although he's won or shared 22 Big Seven crowns.

He gave loads of credit to 6-feet-9 Clyde Lovellette, his accurate and altitudinous center, for last night's victory, but he was almost equally as emphatic in praising the rest of the Jayhawkers.

"We make a lot of mistakes, but we've got a lot of power," he declared.

Lovellette, who piled in a dozen field goals and nine free throws for his 33 points, said he believed St. John's was "a bit rough." The Redmen from Brooklyn committed 35 personals, against 25 for Kansas.

"They seemed to want to get in there and mix it all the time," the big, sandy-haired center said. "We just went in there and played ball."

Allen wouldn't comment on that phase. "Naw, I haven't anything to say about that," he said with a smile.

The Kansans were tired but gay when they got to the dressing room. They posed for pictures with their newly-won trophies, then headed happily for the showers.

It was pretty sad and quiet in the St. John's peeling chamber.

The team that had trailed from 14 to 20 points during the second half had lots of praise for Lovellette. So did Redmen Coach Frank McGuire.

"We lost to a great club and Lovellette is a great man," said McGuire quietly. "I guess we just played too many games, and had too much basketball.

"Too much Lovellette. He's the greatest center we ever played against." was the tribute from Capt. Jack McMahon.

NCAA Swim Championship Opens Tonight

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP)—The 29th annual NCAA Swimming Championships open at Princeton's Dillon Gymnasium tonight with the 1,500-meter freestyle, and it appears that the big college swim meet again will start off with a new record in the swimming marathon.

John Marshall, Australia's gift to the Yale swimming team, got last year's NCAA get-together off to a fast start with a record-breaking 18:18.8, but that mark already has been broken. The fellow who did it, Ohio State's Ford Konno, will toe the line with Marshall tonight, hoping to equal or better his own mark of 18:11.5 in the recent Big Ten championships.

Off that sensational performance and his victory over Marshall in last summer's outdoor AAU championships, the wiry Ohio State freshman looks like a good bet to give the Buckeyes a running start in their bid to replace Yale as NCAA champions. The Blue swimmers took the title away from Ohio State last year as Marshall set records in the 1,500, 220 and 440-yard freestyle races.

Tonight's race also serves as a preview of the indoor AAU meet next week and probably the Olympic 1,500-meter race next summer. Ironically, the 1948 Olympic champion, Jimmy McLane of Yale, also is entered in tonight's grind, but is not figured as a severe threat to Konno or Marshall. He finished third last year behind Marshall and Bert MacLachlan of Michigan State, who also is on tap again.

The 65-laps-plus grind is the only event on tonight's NCAA program, but the record-breaking field of more than 250 swimmers from 61 colleges and universities all over the country will get into full action tomorrow.

Signs of Spring Popping Up Along the Grapefruit Circuit

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Signs of spring in the great Southwest:

The Chicago Cubs have been slaughtering everything in sight and the pitching monsters of the Cleveland Indians haven't been able to win for losing. As usual, the exhibitions do not count in the final standings.

Leo Durocher of the Giants says he doesn't know what's eating his old pal Charlie Dressen of the Dodgers.

I keep reading where he says we've been laughing at his club all winter. Hell, I haven't even mentioned the Dodgers all spring until right now. I know better than anyone does how lucky we were when Thomson hit that homer."

Roy Hamey, the Yankees' trouble-shooter, is out this way trying to put together a new scouting staff for the champs, who suffered a serious blow when their two famous talent hunters, Joe Devine and Bill Essick, died within a short time of each other.

Between them, Devine and Essick were responsible for practically all the West Coast stars such as DiMaggio, Gomez, Crosetti and many others who won fame with the Bombers over the past 20 years.

Commissioner Ford Frick passed through Denver on his way to the coast and he brought word that the two-game series between the Giants and Indians in the Colorado capital next week is going to be something, indeed. Given a break in weather—anything short of a foot of snow—he declares the big leaguers will play to two capacity crowds of 18,000 and pay for a lot of training camp steaks.

It isn't Frick's business any more to blow the bugles for any one team or set of teams, and he conscientiously avoids the controversial topics. He does, however, go so far as to say he was more impressed by the Boston Braves than any team he saw in the Florida group. He retains an especially vivid memory of Ed Matthews, the big Braves rookie who accidentally crashed into him on the practice field. He says he still hurts all over every time he thinks about it.

Some astute observers do not feel that the Chicago White Sox are displaying quite the fire and hustle they did in training games a year ago. From what he's seen of them, Rogers Hornsby doesn't hesitate to say his St. Louis Browns will finish higher than Paul Richards' speed boys.

Demo Scratch Votes Decide Wis. GOP Vote

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Democrats who vote the Republican ticket may affect sharply the results of next Tuesday's Wisconsin primary showdown in the Republican presidential nomination race.

Unless all signs fail, most of the Democrats who decide to cross over into the Republican reservation will be seeking some way of making their votes felt in behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Eisenhower's name isn't on the GOP ballot, where Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Gov. Earl Warren of California and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota are the major contestants for the state's 30 delegates to the July nominating convention in Chicago.

But Wisconsin voters favoring Eisenhower have the choice of accepting Stassen's pledge that he will turn over to the general immediately half of any delegates he elects or the promise of the Warren delegate candidates to support Eisenhower if the California governor drops out of the race.

Taft, rounding out a strenuous speaking campaign in the state, called these "hybrid tickets."

Politicians here now figure Warren, who resumed touring the state today after a speech at Janesville last night will be the chief beneficiary of any Democratic cross-over and may outdraw Stassen among Republicans with Eisenhower leanings.

However, Warren told a news conference at Janesville last night he is not willing to share with Eisenhower any delegates elected in his name.

The California governor indicated this attitude holds at least through the first vote at he convenion in Chicago, alhough he did not forclose a change of mind after that ballot of his chances of getting the nomination then do not appear to be good.

"I would expect any delegate pledged to me to go to the convention and on the roll call to vote for me," Warren said.

Earlier, Carl B. Rix, head of the Warren slate of delegates, told a crowd at Janesville High School that he and his colleagues "make no pretense of the fact that our alternate choice in the convention is Gen. Eisenhower."

Any benefit Warren receives from a Democratic cross-over could make him the closest contender to Taft in a state the Ohio senator's backers regard as critical in his pre-convention campaign for the nomination. A third-place run for Stassen might go a long way towards pushing him out of the race and openly into the Eisenhower camp.

A slate running for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, under the name of Grant Ritter of Beloit, could figure in the final results and possibly upset the position of some of those regarded as leaders in the contest. MacArthur has said he is not a candidate.

Most observers here believe about one million Wisconsin voters will go to the polls next Tuesday.

They calculate that of these, from 700,000 to 800,000 will cast Republican ballots.

Under Wisconsin law, the voter is handed both Republican and Democratic ballots and can make his choice when he closets himself in the booth.

Under these circumstances, a great many Democrats may be attracted by the chance to take part in the Republican fight.

Second of Series on Business---

Most Concerted Selling Effort In Years This Year

(Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles on a state-by-state Associated Press survey of business conditions.

By The Associated Press

Salesmen will buzz around customers' doors this year in the most concerted selling effort seen in years.

It will be the greatest test of selling forces since before World War II.

And the biggest customer of all—the federal government—may hold the key to whether business will be as good as many leaders expect.

These are the prospects disclosed by an Associated Press nation-wide survey on the status and outlook for the nation's business.

For a variety of reasons, sales thus far in 1952 have fallen behind the admittedly swollen totals of scare-buying early 1951.

Retailers know buyers have money available. Large accumulations of savings prove that. But the big problem is to get the consumers to spend a little faster. Continued high personal incomes, which federal defense expenditures could assure, would make the selling job easier.

The pace of defense spending (military deliveries now run around two billion dollars a month) can mean the difference in many states between prosperity or hard times.

Of 519,000 workers in the metropolitan Los Angeles area, 27 per cent work in aircraft plants. Their customer is Uncle Sam. Albuquerque gets nearly two-thirds of its money from the federal government. In Utah 23 per cent of all employed work for government agencies, most for the federal government. In Kansas, aircraft output is the largest manufacturing industry.

A slowdown of Air Force spending already has caused some temporary idleness in a Georgia jet bomber plant, and in the Dallas-Ft. Worth area.

The Detroit area has more than 100,000 idle because defense work has not taken up the slack of auto production cutbacks.

Government orders are bridging in a gap in the slumping textile industry.

In the nation as a whole, government economists say, employment and incomes are higher than a year ago.

But sales of retail stores have been disappointing. Here are some of the reasons advanced by business men surveyed:

At Pittsburgh it was fear of the pinch of a steel strike.

Some Colorado stores said the customer is overcautions after last year's buying spree. A food seller there contended it's not so much resistance to prices as inability to stretch the dollar to cover higher costs.

In New Mexico and many other states, heavy income tax burdens get much of the blame. Price-cutting sales in Illinois were traced to need of businessmen to get cash to meet tax payments.

Anticipation of "hard selling" crops up in reports from states all over the country.

An Omaha department store executive says, "Don't think business is going to be easy. You have to get out and work for it."

A Cincinnati retailer says department stores "are going to have to fight for business," and a manufacturer declares "aggressive selling is necessary if business is to hold its own, let alone improve." The latter says buyers today are "more selective than at any time since the start of World War II."

Probably one basic reason for retailers' belief they will have a good record by the end of 1952 is confidence that again, as in past years, they can produce potent selling arguments when competitive pressures demand.

Of course, defense-bolstered incomes will help. But the prop of defense industrial activity is not regarded in some states as being of major importance.

(Note: Tomorrow's final article tells what business leaders in various states think is ahead for the rest of 1952).

Competitors Hold Sale for Store Whose Owner Died

PAW PAW, Mich. (AP)—The big sale at the O'Grady brothers clothing store is nearly over and it has been a whopping success, thanks to the good salesmanship of competitors.

The O'Grady store, an institution here for half a century, never disposed of any old goods.

Ed O'Grady died a few years ago. The surviving brother, James, carried on the business. But he became ill recently.

The store was full of old clothing—some of it 40 years old. James O'Grady had to go to a convalescent home and he had no chance to take inventory or clean out the stock.

Other merchants heard of his plight. They all pitched in together goods on sale.

The demand was surprising. Western Michigan College bought a lot of old-fashioned clothing for its dramatics department. Some people made purchases for keepsakes.

The merchants figure they have grossed a sum 2½ times the highest offer for the complete stock.

One of the salesmen was asked how business went in his own store during the O'Grady sale.

"Business has been lousy," he said.

Nanny Goat, About To Become Mother, Worries Play Cast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Brunhilde, a pregnant white goat, is on stage again. But impending motherhood has the cast a bit worried.

Nightly, Brunhilde appears twice at the Curran Theater in Tennessee Williams' "Rose Tatto." Each time she's chased. And that's a bit strenuous, you know.

Previously, Brunhilde appeared here in "Mr. Roberts." But her casting was cut short. She gave birth to twins in a taxi.

"Tatto's" publicity director, Ned Armstrong, heard about Brunhilde's appearance in "Mr. Roberts" and, without checking her sex, hired her from owner Margaret P. Dean.

"They gave me strict orders in New York to get a billy goat," Armstrong worried today.

"We close here April 5. If she can only hold out until then."

Why won't any other goat do? Brunhilde is reported to be the only pure white goat in the area.

A young couple belonging to one of the square dancing classes was trying to practice a new step one evening and they weren't doing too well.

Sitting there watching was their little daughter who finally spoke up: "What are you trying to do?"

"We are trying to learn a new square dancing step", said her mother.

"You mean this?", and with that the youngster jumped up and did the step perfectly.

"Where did you learn that?", asked the amazed mother.

"Oh, at dancing school. We did a little square dancing there."

A few nights later the couple was again practicing with the little girl watching.

"The other foot, Mother," she said, "You have the wrong foot. You'll kick your partner if you use that one."

"No, this is right," said the mother with confidence.

"All right," said the child, and just about that time father got kicked.

Now they think they will take lessons from Frankie—she seems to know what it's all about—HL.

"What kind of pie is this a la mode? I never heard of that before. Is it good?"—and she was serious.

The Nunan Testimony Is Get-Rich-Quick Story

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON — "How to get rich while working for the government" might well be the title of the testimony given the King tax-fraud subcommittee last week by Joe Nunan, ex-commissioner of internal revenue, the man who once collected the nation's taxes.

Only trouble with Nunan's sensational testimony was that it was given behind closed doors. The public couldn't get the full benefit of the Nunan object lesson in how to make money while working for the government.

However, this column is able to give the public a detailed report of what happened. Here are the highlights:

1. Nunan's outside law fees and other outside income increased from $13,306 to $77,450 while he was tax commissioner. This was from 1944 to 1947.

2. Nunan attended a party given by racketeer Frankie Costello at the Copacabana night club, which Costello owns. Parenthetically, it should be noted that, after he left the government, Nunan turned up working for the night-club owners of New York, of which Costello was one.

3. Nunan threw a $3,000 cocktail party for Attorney General McGrath and Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark. This was after he had left the government, and the purpose of the party was to introduce his law clients to McGrath and Justice Clark.

Star Prosecutor

Star of the closed hearing was Adrian De Wind, the committee's crack counsel, who hammered at Nunan relentlessly. The ex-tax chief remained cool, however, politely refused to answer when the questions got too ticklish.

"While you were commissioner of internal revenue, you continued to have a private law practice, did you not?" demanded De Wind.

"That is correct," acknowledged the suave New Yorker.

De Wind then read from Nunan's tax returns showing that his law business brought in $13,306 in 1944 doubled to $27,000 in 1945, jumped to $57,363 in 1946 and finally hit $77,450 in 1947 — the four years that Nunan served as internal revenue commissioner.

"Your income from your law business increased substantially during the time that you were commissioner of internal revenue, did it not?" observed Congressman Robert Kean, New Jersey Republican.

"Yes, sir," agreed Nunan.

"Why was that?" asked Kean.

"Because I guess we did more business, I can't say why," shrugged Nunan.

"Did you give any time to your law firm?" broke in Congressman Carl Curtis, Nebraska Republican.

"No, sir, very little," Nunan replied.

"Did your firm ever handle any tax work at all?" asked Congressman John Byrnes, Wisconsin Republican.

"Very little," Nunan replied.

"Did not they do tax work while you were commissioner?" insisted Byrnes.

"Yes, sir. They did some tax work," admitted Nunan.

"Did the income from that go into some of these legal fees that you reported?" Byrnes demanded.

"Under the agreement with the firm, it wasn't supposed to, Mr. Congressman," explained Nunan.

"Did the only federal practice of the firm consist of tax practice?" De Wind interrupted.

"That would be, yes, I don't think they had anything with any of the other government agencies," replied the former commissioner.

Nunan's Own Tax Returns

The House probers were also critical of the slipshod way Nunan made out his own tax returns while he was tax chief. Under sharp questioning from De Wind, Nunan admitted that he hadn't bothered to itemize his expenses, contributions and other deductions—though the returns explicitly called for itemized lists.

"Do you not think that a commissioner of internal revenue ought to carry out his own instructions?" needled Congressman Byrnes.

"Yes, sir," meekly agreed Nunan.

De Wind then explored Nunan's acquaintance with racketeer Frankie Costello.

"I have met him twice, yes, sir," admitted Nunan. On both occasions, he explained that they had met at a New York bar and had been introduced by mutual friends.

"You have never attended any party or dinner or other affair given by Mr. Costello?" fired De Wind.

"Yes, I did," Nunan recalled. "I attended that dinner at the Copacabana that was supposed to be given for the Salvation Army."

"It was while you were commissioner?" pressed De Wind.

"Yes, sir," acknowledged Nunan. "I was invited to this party by, I think it was a man named Jim O'Connel."

He identified O'Connel as an old friend in the construction business; also testified that no other federal officials had attended Costello's party.

$3,000 Cocktail Party

As for Nunan's own party giving, he admitted shelling out $3,191 for a fancy party for Attorney General McGrath and Supreme Court Justice Clark at Washington's swank Statler Hotel in October, 1949.

"The two federal officials were entertained and then the firm and you invited your private clients to the dinner?" asked De Wind.

"Yes, that is right," agreed Nunan.

"And you and the law firm viewed that as entirely a business expense?" pressed the counsel.

"Yes, sir," nodded Nunan.

"The party was designed to increase the business of the law firm?" asked De Wind.

"No, sir," denied Nunan. Then he admitted: "Well, in a certain respect it was; we had a good many of our clients there."

But when the committee started getting specific about the cash in Nunan's safe-deposit box and details of his business dealings, he clammed up and claimed his constitutional right not to answer. Meanwhile, a federal grand jury is still investigating him.

Poor Man's Philosopher Offers His Prayer for Spring

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Spring prayer by the poor man's philosopher:

It is such a beautiful season, Lord, that everything upon the budding earth and bending sea should share thine own vast compassion.

Teach us to understand the eternal why of all unlovely things.

Poison snakes, biting dogs, poison ivy, puppies in zoot suits, the thorn upon the rose's stem, the stinging thistle underfoot, gossips and witches and people too big for their britches.

Yes, such as toll roads and taxes, road hogs and gay old dogs, tourist traps and wesels and the daubs of paint upon modernistic artists' easels.

Show us thine own endless patience in dealing with our daily vexations and frustrations.

Falling hair and rising prices, doors that jam, slide fasteners that stick, relatives and wonder drugs that won't work, television sets that work too often, drug clerks who try to sell us deodorants and lotions, and statesmen with weird political notions.

Grant us, O Lord, thine own mercy in judging the stuffed shirts of our time.

Such as—

Pontifical columnists and commentators, sanctimonious parsons, people who measure your social standing by the length of your motor car, radio master-of-ceremony smarties and the long-winded intellectuals who try to save the world at cocktail parties.

Let us, O Lord, forgive all even as Thou dost forgive.

The fellow who passe us a counterfeit $5 bill, those who did us a small favor and couldn't help making a big brag about it later, the idealist with a mind of one dimension, bill collectors who won't grant us just one more extension and the butcher who in the last war didn't give us the breaks when we asked for steaks.

Seal our lips against making a big gripe about our own small troubles. Help us put up with them.

The spoiled kid next door that wails half the night, the neighbor that won't lend us his new lawnmower just because we broke his old one, complaining wives, husbands that stop off for just one more—and then come home and try to kick their way through the door.

Yes, such as the brother-in-law who comes to visit for a week and stays on through the years, mosquitoes in the parlor, cockroaches in the kitchen, sudden small pains, and the garbage that insists upon clogging the drain.

Teach us, O Lord, in this beautiful spring to take the little and the big in stride, to appreciate the shower as well as the flower, to look at both sides of the winderful gold coin of life.

Let us be grateful even for the mice in our paradise.

Boy to Hospital Where Mother Gets X-rays; Leaned on Lamp Post

BALTIMORE (AP)—Some people have been saying it's about time the city replaced its old street lamps.

Yesterday, James Metzger, 12, was leaning against a rusted one when it snapped off. It pinned him underneath and passers-by had to rescue him.

He went to a nearby hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises. It was the same hospital where his mother was having some X-rays taken.

That's how James happened to be leaning on the lamp post. He was waiting for her.

XXXIV

THERE was no excitement, no trace of tremor in the muffled reply: "Okay now?" Just the confident, assured tone of the supreme, but thwarted—egotist. I wanted to look at Cravath, but I didn't dare. I could only hope that he was alerted, ready and on his toes.

Then the murderer made his supreme bid.

He moved without haste, leisurely even, to the exact middle of that little moonlit strip. But suddenly the glistening tape he held slackened, fell to the ground.

Slowly he brought both hands up in front of him. And though I'd known what to expect, I had to force back a gasp. The dark thing clinging to his right hand looked, in this strange light, like a hideous and unnatural growth.

A few short swift steps down the path . . . an arm drawn back . . . then swung powerfully forward.

A sliver of moonlight caught the dark object, splattered off it like sparks off onyx. Once again, Death started down the Peacock Path.

With a half-choked cry Cravath sprang up from his crouch behind the chains. A burst of light exploded in the opposite row of evergreens. And the hollow clank sounded, the clank of hard material smashing against metal.

The streaking black object bounced off the piping, rose half a foot into the air and went on. It slowed deflected, abruptly harmless, and disappeared into the shadow of a tree.

The killer stood, his head poised like a snake's, a statue painted by moonbeams. Amazement, frustration and rage swept his face as a torch from the evergreens drenched his back in light.

The killer was caught in a three-way trap. The light behind him; Cravath coming up from the cliff; myself moving into the open:

He glanced around, swiftly, fearfully, like a cornered animal. I could see his eyes, luminous and darting.

I walked slowly forward, the gun in plain sight. His own weapon had failed, and he had reached for no other. But even unarmed, he was a dangerous and deadly man.

I said, over the padding sound of Cravath's approaching feet and as the torch converged, "Don't try tricks. This is ready to go off. And, believe me, I'm not fooling."

* * *

I WILL never forget the look Marston Cravath gave me. I had tricked him, robbed him of one of his last illusions. But I had seen no other way.

I took a backward step and spoke to the killer: "You tried to kill Marston Cravath because his death would have given you virtual control of the business and you wanted something else, even more than you wanted money. Aside from these reasons, you hated him—he's always been the man you wanted to be."

Jack Dumont started to spring but stopped as I whipped up the gun. I went on:

"Two attempts failed and before you could dream up another trick, Ames Warburton found out about the bonds. He went to you first, being your protege. He thought Cravath himself had taken them."

Cravath gasped involuntarily. Off to my right, Dave Sladen, the third point in this triangular trap, shuffled his feet.

Dumont gave a harsh laugh. "Pure supposition!"

"Yes," I admitted, "but pretty close, I'll bet. You probably stalled Ames, suggesting that you meet at the end of this path to talk it over."

"I suppose I picked up Ames and flung him over the cliff?"

"You were more subtle. Perhaps you planned to pin the theft on Ames and you saw a way to get rid of him and if murder were ever proved, Cravath would be suspected. Or if suicide were suspected, it would be because he'd turned thief.

"You may have seen the possibilities of the Peacock Path long ago. It's similar to a bowling alley. And Mr. Cravath was a crack bowler, once. He's got a trophy for bowling in his study. You doubtless knew too that his old bowling balls were in the attic.

"Your problem was simple. Get Ames out on the edge of the cliff and let him have it from about 30 feet off, with a fast heavy ball. A twin, incidentally, of the one over there under the trees."

He looked at me as I hope never to be looked at again.

"You got Ames out there by stealing his watch which he probably put down somewhere after his arrival here when he undressed. You also sneaked a bowling ball out of the attic and hid it under one of these trees. The same way you did today. Then, when the coast was clear that night, you went out here to keep your appointment. Only you went early and planted the watch, outside of the chains.

"Ames came finally and stood at the chains, waiting for you. And saw his watch on the grass beyond them. He had no idea how it had gotten there. But, naturally, he stepped over to get it. When he stooped down, you simply let fly. A friend of mine in New York has established that you're a better bowler than Mr. Cravath ever was. What's more, he hasn't bowled in years. The date on his trophy is 1932."

He was a tough customer, with a mind like ice. He fixed that glare on me, said, "Just why did you investigate me? And, comes to that, who are you to be investigating, anyhow?"

"Never mind me," I said. "But I investigated you because you made a slip. Just a little one, but it put me on the track. When Sladen found Ames' watch on the rocks that night you confirmed that it was Ames' watch. You added that you'd seen him 'fiddling with it in the office the other day.'"

He started. And I shot at him. "Ames hadn't carried that watch for more than a month."

Smith Likes Short Legislative Session Idea, So Signs Bill

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith likes the idea of short legislative sessions so well he signed a constitutional amendment proposal yesterday even though he doesn't have to.

The constitution says the governor doesn't have to sign resolutions passed by the legislature submitting amendment proposals to the voters. But Smith said some disagreement had arisen, so he signed it to be on the safe side.

The proposal, sponsored by Sen. William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood, will give voters a chance to register their opinion on whether Missouri legislative sessions should be limited to five months. Special sessions would be no more than 60 days. Legislators would get $10 a day extra expense money when they answered the day's first roll call.

Smith said he thought Missouri should have had something like that long ago. The legislature has been in session most of the time since he took office in 1949.

Also signed were bills to:

Let the school for the deaf at Fulton sell about one and a half acres of land adjacent to the Fulton cemetery to the city for not less than $250 an acre.

Give third class county school superintendents seven instead of four cents a mile and boost their clerical allowance from $1,500 to $2,000 a year.

No Slate for Kerr In California Vote

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Oklahoma's Sen. Kerr will have no slate of California delegates pledged to him, Democratic Leader John B. Elliott says.

Elliott announced last night that although many state Democratic leaders had offered the use of their names for Kerr, there is insufficient time under California's complicated California primary law to complete a full slate by the April 4 deadline.

Either Stevenson Or Kefauver OK To Fair Dealers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today either Gov. Stevenson of Illinois or Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee as the Democratic presidential nominee probably would satisfy most backers of the Truman "Fair Deal" program.

Humphrey reiterated he plans to support President Truman if he seeks another term, but the Minnesotan said he thinks the President will bow out—"although I have no inside information."

As the "favorite son" winner of Minnesota's March 18 presidential primary on the Democratic ticket, Humphrey is in a position to swing the state's delegation behind a candidate of his choosing at the party's national nominating convention in July.

He has been surveying the situation in Northern states generally in what he calls a "somewhat tentative" move to organize support for "some truly liberal candidate" if Truman decides not to run.

"I am not specifically endorsing anyone other than the President at this time," Humphrey said in an interview, "but I have found there is a lot of good friendly feeling toward Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, particularly in the Midwest."

FBI Silent On Danvers Case Moves

DANVERS, Mass. (AP)—FBI agents today began a roundup of all former employes of the U. S. Trucking Corp., one of whose armored trucks was robbed of $681,000 in Danvers Square Tuesday while its three guards sipped coffee 20 feet away.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation maintained an official silence on the matter but the information was divulged by a source close to the investigation.

The source, who asked that his name not be used, said he believes the FBI hopes to determine if one of the former employes kept a key to the truck when he left the employ of the armored car service or divulged how a key could be obtained.

At the same time, Boston police swooped down on all known gangsters — "petty and big-time alike" — and made them account for their time Tuesday morning.

Boston police took that action after it was revealed the keys to the company's armored trucks were kept in an unlocked drawer just inside the entrance of a garage in Boston's north end.

Some police officers have expressed the opinion there might be a connection between the armored car robbery and the still-unsolved $1,219,000 Brink's Headquarters robbery on Jan. 17, 1950.

The U. S. Trucking Corp's armored trucks are kept in the same waterfront garage that houses Brink's Boston headquarters.

The Danvers robbery is believed to involve the second biggest cash haul in U. S. crime history. The biggest is listed as the Brink's robbery.

Navy Secretary Believes US Will Protect Formosa

TOKYO (AP)—U. S. Secretary of Navy Dan A. Kimbell believes the United States Nacy will continue to protect Formosa regardless of what happens in Korea, a Navy spokesman said today.

The spokesman, who is traveling with the Kimball party on its Far Eastern tour, said:

"That is the secretary's interpretation of the present policy in Washington."

It marks a departure from policy statements made by President Truman at the start of the Korean War. The President at that time linked the use of the U. S. Seventh Fleet to defend Formosa with the Korean War.

On June 27, 1950, the President ordered the Seventh Fleet to prevent any attack on Formosa and called on the Chinese Nationalist government on the island to cease all air and sea operations against the China mainlaind.

Since then, the Seventh Fleet has maintained small patrols in Formosan waters while the most of its vessels have been concentrated off the coast of Korea.

Kimball was asked at a press conference in Taipeh, Formosa capital, whether the policy of protecting Formosa was a permanent policy. He was told there was uneasiness among the Chinese on Formosa that protectian of the island might be sacrificed in the event of a Korean truce or for other reasons.

The secretaary said the policy "would ge along regardless of Korea. These people on Formosa are our friends and we're going to continue to protect them to whatever extent is necessary."

"FLEET" STEED FOR ORPHAN—Lieut.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commanding general of the Eighth Army in Korea, puts aside stern duties for a moment as he plays "horse" for a Korean orphan. General Van Fleet and other UN officials visited the Columbian Children's Home in Seoul to present $11,000 worth of clothing to the orphanage. It was purchased by chaplains stationed in the Far East, with money donated by members of the Third Army.

Rita To Take Long Vacation Then Go to Reno for Divorce

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —Rita Hayworth says she will take a month's motor tour of the Southwest and then drive to Reno for her divorce from Prince Aly Khan.

The flame-haired actress finishes work for her picture today. She has purchased a station wagon and will drive to Southwest resorts with her secretary, Margaret Potter.

In an exclusive interview, Miss Hayworth scotched recurrent rumors that she is planning a return to Europe to reconcile with Prince Aly. She told me she has not been in touch with him. She agreed that the Aly Khan chapter in her fabulous life is ended.

She will retain full custody of Yasmin, their daughter. She offered no comment on other terms of the separation. She will not be required to remain six weeks in Reno for the divorce.

"I am a resident of Glenbrook, Nev.," she explained. "I established residence there when I returned to this country. The divorce could be a matter of hours, but I may stay around Reno for a few days. I like Nevada very much."

When I saw her last night, the actress remarked that she was weary from the movie-making routine.

"I started out with six weeks of dance rehearsals," she said. "That left me completely exhausted. After all, I haven't danced for four years. In fact, I haven't done anything for four years.

"When I started shooting, I had screen fright. I knew I would. But after 10 days, I got settled down. Then I began to like working again."

The picture stopped shooting last week, but she has been posing for photographs to advertise and exploit the picture, "Affair in Trinidad." She is even posing in a bathing suit, proving that princesses are not above cheesecake.

"Now I'm ready for a rest," she said. "I'll rest on the motor trip I'm taking. I love to drive; I've done it on every continent. Once I drove all the way from Algiers to Tunisia.

"I don't know where I'll go on this trip. We'll stop wherever we feel like it, for I do want to get some sun. We'll probably spend some time in Tucson and Phoenix, Ariz."

After the divorce, Rita returns to Columbia studio, where she will start another picture, "Salome and the Seven Veils." Starting date is May 15, and director William Dieterle is now in Israel filming background shots.

"I wish I could have gotten in the plane with him," said travel-mad Rita.

Her plans after "Salome"?

"That's too far away to think about," she replied. She said she loves Europe and plans to return there as soon as possible, but not to Aly.

After four years away from Hollywood, Rita seems little changed. She is still shy and reticent in conversation. It almost makes you forget her ability to get involved in so many headlines.

Trans-America Banking Empire May Be Broken

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board is reported favoring 3 to 2 an order to break up as a monopoly the huge Transamerica banking empire.

It was built by the late A. P. Giannini in California, Oregon, Nevada, Washington and Arizona. The board counsel says it includes 48 banks with 667 banking offices.

Reliable informants said the board majority was planning an order which would let Transamerica keep its minority stock in the Bank of America chain in California—the world's largest bank—but would force it to give up its interest in the banks in the other four states.

Made to Order Babies May Be Next for Humans

N7W YORK (AP)—The day may be coming when human beings will be made to order with test tubes and women who are not their mothers

This prediction was made today by Dr. Ralph W. Gerald, professor of physicology, University of Chicago, at a "Conference on the Future" held by executives of a mutual fire and casualty insurance companies.

The new breeding method already is used on animals. Selected human perents, doing the same, would give their eggs and sperm to a scientific laboratory. There, conception would take place in a test tube. The fertilized egg would be planted in a foster mother and, according to the facts already discovered with animals, the child would truly inherit the qualities of its test tube parents.

The first human step already has been taken in artificial insemination. But Dr. Gerald predicted it would be a long time before we have many made-to-order humans. He said we may not want to because they will be monotonously alike. Or they may create castes.

He predicted new hearts, by transplantation, and new kidneys similarily. He said the secret of aging would be discovered and used for man's benefit.

High Commissioner Cracks Down on Town Where 12 Were Killed

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Gen. Sir Gerald Templer, new high commissioner, clamped a 22-hour a day house arrest on the 5,000 villagers of Tanjong Halin and slashed their rice rations today as punishment for the Communist ambush slaying yesterday of 12 persons.

Summoning 300 of the village elders into the school house, Sir Gerald accused the village of being the worst Communist area in Malaya, said many were withholding knowledge of Communist terrorist activities and ended with this parting shot:

"The solution is largely in your hands. Have some guts and shoulder the responsibility of citizenship."

Four Children Die When Woman Tosses Bomb on Bonfire

FOGGIA, Italy (AP)—Four children were killed and 22 other persons were injured, several critically, when a woman threw a bomb on a bonfire during a religious celebration near here.

Hoping to liven up a celebration of the feast day of St. Annunziata with harmless fireworks, the woman threw a large metal tube, a war relic, into one of several bonfires around which adults and children were sitting, singing hymns.

The blast killed a 9-year-old boy. Several hours later three other children, aged 5 to 14, died of their injuries. A 6-year-old child who lost both his legs and several others were taken to a hospital in critical condition.

The accident occurred in the village of San Marco in Lamis.

If conditions are exactly right the sun can be hidden in an eclipse for as long as 7½ minutes.

Years ago, when first written, much of Wagner's music seemed very unmusical to many people.

Hearing on Federal Anti-Strike Injunction Against 3 Rail Unions

CLEVELAND (AP)—A hearing on the government's request for a anti-strike injunction against three railroad unions opens today before Federal Judge Emerich B. Freed.

A contingent of Justice Department attorneys and Army officers arrived here yesterday for the hearing.

They were here when the government obtained a temporary writ March 11 against striking New York Central System and St. Louis Terminal Railway crews.

The current hearing is expected to last two or three days.

The government has asked for more time to reply to suits filed by the three unions.

The unions contend the government should retain all profits and "provide a just and fair compensation" for the railroad workers or deny the injunction.

BEWARE OF THE FLY-BY-NIGHT!

With the coming of spring, another type of peddler usually makes his appearance on the scene. These peddlers are the itinerant roofers, insulation and home decorating salesmen.

By virtue of smooth, fast talk and fancy contracts, these men manage to do a fair amount of business. Their products are usually all right for quality and their workmanship is passable.

But, before you contract with them, please investigate and get bids on comparable jobs from Home Lumber Co.

Here's an example:

Several asbestos-siding jobs have been sold in this community by these people at prices ranging from $35 to $50 per square.

The asbestos shingles used cost on an average of $12.50 per square. Any one of several local carpenters would be glad to handle the installation for $7.00 to $10.00 per square. On the average house using 15 to 20 squares of siding, the difference is $150 to $300. Is it worth that amount of money to you to investigate before you buy?

Eggs Go Up, Butter Down

By the Associated Press

Retail egg prices advanced a little in many stores this week. Butter went down a few cents a pound.

Except for scattered declines in fryer and broiler chickens, beef hib and chuck roasts and a few other items, meats held about steady.

Fresh produce also was generally unchanged, although some large marketing sections posted slightly higher prices for best green beans, cabbage, celery, good lettuce, peppers, tomatoes and tangerines.

Retail mark-ups on eggs amounted to 2 to 4 cents a dozen and were attributed mostly to heavier military buying and shipment delays resulting from storms in the Midwest last weekend.

However, eggs were still on the Agriculture Department's list of most plentiful foods.

The widespread reductions in butter prices reflected continued consumer price resistance, according to wholesalers in New York.

Frying and broiling chickens were high on the list of advertised specials of many stores for the coming weekend. Supplies were large. Turkeys also were in heavy supply.

Foods to be featured this weekend by major store chains and independents included these most frequently: chuck, rib and pot roast, leg and rump of veal, leg of lamb, lamb chops, fresh or smoked pork shoulder, hams, pork loins, round steak, several varieties of fresh and frozen fish, cabbage, carrots, lettuce, pascal celery, and citrus fruits.

The Agriculture Department's list of most-plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week included cabbage, cottage cheese and fish.

Its national list of plentifuls for the coming month: oranges, processed orange products, processed grapefruit products, grapefruit, dried prunes, domestic dates eggs, broilers and fryers, cottage cheese, nonfat dry milk, frozen fish, peanut butter, pecans, almonds, lard, vegetable shortening and salad oils.

Gland Transplanting May Become Great Boon to Health

By Alton L. Blakeslee

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—One of the great potential revolutions in medical science was disclosed today.

Three sick men and women have been given glands transplanted from very premature babies to turn out hormones for new health.

It is an amazing and promising experiment in giving humans new spare parts. It may lead to many new methods of treating a variety of diseases.

Little pieces of glands were taken from unborn babies and put into stomach muscles of two men and a woman. The men got adrenal glands because their own adrenals had stopped making hormones, including cortisone. The woman got a thyroid gland, after her own sick thyroid was removed.

Animal tests indicate new gland bits will stay alive, grow, and make hormones. It is still too early to tell about the humans.

If it works for them, humans some day may get new glands to control diabetes without insulin, a gland hormone; to replace sex glands; to control thyroid diseases; even perhaps control some kinds of cancer. New glands might come from animals as well as humans. Humans might be able to replace wornout or lost sex glands, realizing the monkey gland experiments 30 years ago of the late Dr. Serge Voronoff.

Human or animal bodies might supply successful transplants of nerves or blood vessels or other spare parts that would take root and stay alive or grow.

The big secret is using embryonic tissue — glands or other parts from very young, unborn humans. Only embryonic tissue and some cancer tissues can be transplanted and stay alive in another body.

The facts to date, and the future potentials, were disclosed in reports of research at Yale University Medical School. They were described during a tour of cancer centers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Harry S. N. Greene, Yale pathologist, showed that embryonic glands of animals could be transplanted successfully from one kind of animal to another. The bits of glands lived and produced hormones, even when transferred from an unborn mouse or rabbit or guinea pig into another, adult, animal of a different species.

Dr. Eugene E. Cliffton, a surgeon, transplanted the bits of human embryonic glands into the men and women. The glands were taken from unborn babies lost in miscarriages or in an operation necessary to save the mother's life.

Slices were put into the stomach muscles of the adults, where they could produce hormones and turn them into the bloodstream.

Sermons By a Dummy

BEALLSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The Rev. Gerald E. Monney, delivers many of his sermons with his mouth closed. He lets Jerry — a wood doll dummy—do the talking for him.

The Rev. Bonney, an ordained minister of the Methodist Church, says the ventriloquist angle gets the "Good Word" to a lot of people who otherwise wouldn't listen.

Jerry has played a large part in the minister's evangelistic work for the past 20 years. When the occasion arises the dummy, aided by the Rev. Bonney, provides a pretty good lead voice for hymn singing.

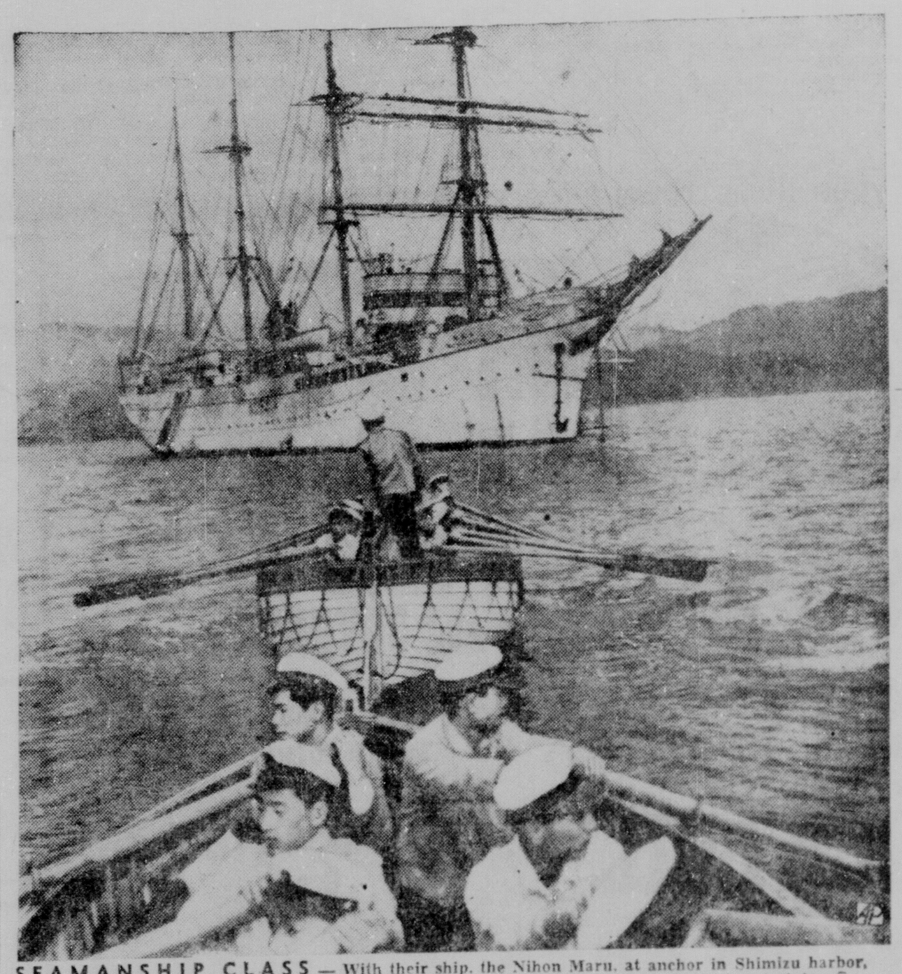
Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Donley and children are moving this week to the Warren Birdsong farm home, a mile west of Clarksburg. The Donleys had lived on the farm before moving to Camdenton several months ago.

Leonard Martin and children, Mary Ellen and Paul Leonard, were guests Monday evening of Mr. Martin's mother, Mrs. Nola Martin. Mrs. Martin attended a meeting of the B.W.C. at the Baptist Church annex.

A number of the members of the Clarksburg O.E.S. Mrs. Joe B. Powell, Mrs. L. J. Stephens, LeRoy Howe and mother, Mrs. Pearlie Howe, and Miss Sarah Ada Maness, attended a school of instruction for that order at Tipton Saturday afternoon. A night session was held also.



SEAMANSHIP CLASS — With their ship, the Nihon Maru, at anchor in Shimizu harbor, students of Japanese Merchant Marine School learn to handle lifeboats during training.

Ens. Harold Stevens In Atlantic Convoy

Serving with Patrol Squadron 3, one of 15 units of the Atlantic Fleet Air Wings now engaged in Atlantic Fleet convoy excerises, is Ens. Harold Stevens, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stevens, route 2, Sedalia, husband of Mrs. Betty Stevens, 403 North Eighth, Columbia.

The exercises, which are taking place along the East coast and Mexico from Long Island to Panama, are for training in the protection of merchant shipping under wartime conditions.

Transports, tankers and cargo ships are sailing from the East coast ports in the same manner as Allied convoys in World War II. Opposing them will be "enemy" forces of submarines, surface raiders and squadrons of land based patrol bombers.

The convoy will be protected by blimps, long range patrol bombers, destroyer units and carrier based hunter-killer teams.

The word "Yankee" was first applied by the Dutch to a shrewd, tricky fellow, according to a generally accepted version of its origin.

White House Losing Battle Of the Tulips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House admitted today it has lost "the battle of the tulips."

There just won't be any tulips in bloom when Queen Juliana of The Netherlands arrives April 2 for a three-day visit with the President and Mrs. Truman.

The President succeeded in hurrying up carpenters, painters and movers in getting the newly redone White House ready, but the thousands of tulips, planted in the grounds especially for the occasion, are taking their own bloomin' time.

In fact, these tulips are causin a lot of worry to the White House, the Netherlands Embassy and in high official greenhouse circles.

The tulips are Dutch immigrants. They are a new variety in a special shade of orange—Juliana is a member of the House of Orange—and they have never been exported from The Netherlands before.

R. J. Benkenkamp, agricultural attache at the Netherlands Embassy, and the Associated Bulb Growers of Holland, decided it would be a nice gesture if bulbs of this new variety were sent here to plan in the White House grounds and at the embassy.

It was hoped they would be blooming during Juliana's visit.

But the bulbs had landing trouble. They reached New York last fall during a longshoreman's strike and couldn't be unloaded. They were returned to Holland, shipped back a month later.

Gardners at the embassy planted their bulbs immediately and they will be in bloom by the time of the royal visit. But White House gardeners were further delayed by the remodeling going on there.

They planted about 5,000 around the fountain on the Pennsylvania Avenue side and an equal number in the south garden. They will be flowering around Easter.

The gardeners potted about 2,000 bulbs and speeded up their growth in greenhouses. These will be ready for decorating the White House interior.
